Re: Monograph on Asbestosis

Dear Page:

The delay in completing the monograph on asbestosis is no less disturbing to us than it is to you. We appreciate its urgency for guidance in the solution of problems pertaining to your workers. Every effort is being made by us to bring it to conclusion. Believe me, however, it is a monumental task. The data of all the studies and observations made by us during the past number of years is voluminous. It is not easy to collate it and digest it for purposes of a monograph that might serve as a basis for guidance. Therefore, as you imply, it must be factual and not conjectural.

Our studies of men from Canada are under way. The first group arrived during the past week. We are most grateful to you and Mr. Fisher for making these studies possible.

Sincerely yours,

Arthur J. Vorwald, M. C.
Director
