Dear Mr. Brown:

When I was writing you the other day I forgot one important subject. I believe that it would be most desirable for me to include a section on X-ray appearance of films in asbestosis. In order to do justice to this subject I would like very much to review the Manheim cases. I have seen all of them with Tony Lanza and MacMcConnell but have never taken the opportunity to write down my impressions and analyze the situation as completely as I should for the purpose in hand. Would it be possible for you to have submitted to me the complete series of films on your employees so that I might go over them with our X-ray people here?

Dr. Sampson is still away on sick leave, but I would like to have his understudy, who is now working with Dr. Pendergrass at the U. of P., come up for such a session. We would be ready to tackle the job during the latter part of February and if we could have the privilege of seeing the films for a week or so at that time, it would be extremely valuable to me.

With best regards,

Sincerely yours,

Leroy U. Gardner, M. D.
Director
