Re: Jos. Silva v. Hopeman Bros.

The attached copy of a letter dated October 17th will be self-explanatory.

Whether or not the attorneys representing the defendants will desire to use Messrs. O'Brien and Geisenberger in the re-trial of the case is not yet known.

This case involved a claim by a former employee of Hopeman Brothers alleging disability as a result of his handling and installing our MK-16 and National Gypsum's Zerocel.
