Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation
Contact Dermatitis by Handlers of Stonefelt

I am attaching hereto letter received from Mr. G. R. Tierney dated March 3, 1944, attaching copy of letter dated February 25, 1944, received from Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation, San Diego, Division, San Diego, California, reading as follows:

> "We are to use your product, "Stonefelt" for insulation purposes. Will you please give us any information you may have regarding the possibility of contact dermatitis by handlers of "Stonefelt" and information regarding preventive measures to be taken.

Mr. Tierney in his letter of March 3 quotes a letter written under date of September 6, 1940 sent to the North American Aviation Incorporated dealing with a similar matter. Recently, we had another case up with the Continental Can Company, Incorporated, Stockton, California, when you prepared a letter dated January 22, 1944, addressed to Mr. E. P. Burlew of the Continental Can Company.

While the letter quoted by Mr. Tierney as being forwarded North American Aviation, Incorporated dated September 6, 1940, was, no doubt, prepared under instructions after contact with your office, the letter which you recently released to Continental Can Company differs somewhat in its content. In view of this, we would appreciate your advising us just how you recommend that we reply to the communication above referred to just received from the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation, returning all papers with your reply.
