Dear Bob,

Ed Hayes and I started the enclosed exhibit covering all occupational disease cases handled by our office since we took over this phase of your work in 1944.

I have just finished the exhibit and am sending same to you as you may wish to study it prior to our meeting in your office at 10 A.M. Thursday, September 4th. After you are through with the exhibit, will you please give it to Ed Hayes.

At a meeting this morning with Tom Angerstein to discuss procedure on the Chervinko and Burandt matters, Tom again suggested that Union Asbestos & Rubber Company make every effort to track down the living men shown on the enclosed exhibit to determine how they have fared physically since removal from exposure. Such a survey might prove very helpful in connection with the problems on employees such as Chervinko and Burandt and would, of course, be of great interest to Trudeau, as there is apparently no literature whatsoever as to what happens to these men after they have been removed from exposure.

It even might be possible to secure current X-rays on these men which would answer the question as to whether or not there is a continuing build up after cessation of exposure or whether the lungs remain the same.

Very truly yours,
