Dear Mr. Simpson:

It is a pleasure to hear from you and to note that you feel that what I may have to say at Hartford will be of interest to members of your group. I plan to give a more or less general talk for the medical practicioner, an outline of which is enclosed. Under non-specific dusts I shall consider everything except free silica and asbestos. These two will be treated individually. Obviously I cannot go into much detail in the half hour at my disposal.

You really did not have so much advantage over me as I have just returned from spending a month in Mexico, where we avoided a good deal of Adirondack weather. We returned to find the snow piled eight feet or more around the driveway, but it is now disappearing pretty rapidly.

With very best regards,

Sincerely yours,

Leroy U. Gardner, M.D.
