Raybestos-Manhattan, Inc.
Bridgeport, Connecticut

Dear Mr. Simpson:

In view of our discussion yesterday of improvements in the textile equipment at Manheim, I am arranging for discussions of this subject with Messrs. Joyce, Luttenberger, and Palm. Mr. Palm, as you will recall, is the Superintendent of the Textile Mill.

As a result of these discussions, which may extend over two or three months, we shall have a comprehensive analysis of this subject, which will include advantages from cost standpoint, advantages in quality of material, quantity of production, suggestions as to the amount and type of equipment, and other pertinent facts.

Yours truly,

O. H. Cilley
