THE SARANAC LABORATORY, SARANAC LAKE, N. Y.

October 9, 1942

Mr. S. Simpson
Raybestos-Manhattan, Inc.
Bridgeport, Conn.

Dear Mr. Simpson:

I was very sorry to have missed you while you were at Lake Placid last summer but I realize that weather was good and the golf course would be much more attractive than a laboratory.

I have been working on the analysis of the material accumulated in the last five years, but it is a slow job and there is a lot of it. Furthermore I have been hampered by war activities - both Dr. Packard, Assistant Director of the Trudeau Foundation, and Dr. Vorwald, my Pathologist, have left me and as a consequence I have plenty of administrative and routine work that cuts into my time for research.

I shall continue with the study and assure you that I am just as anxious as you are to have it finished. I hesitate to say when it will finally reach the stage of publication, but have high hopes that it will be this winter. I hope the sponsors of the research will be patient with me.

With best wishes,

Sincerely yours,

LEROY U. GARDNER, M.D.
