During my visit last week we discussed the possibility of supplying coverall service for all employees at an annual expense of $5,000. I would suggest that we defer a decision on this matter until the final general industry safety orders on asbestos are adopted by the California Division of Industrial Safety and until we obtain dust-sampling data with the new auger packer and palletizer installed and in routine service.

According to the proposed general safety industry order, coveralls are only required for those employees exposed to airborne concentrations of asbestos fiber exceeding a 10-fiber per cc level.
