Amen!! Except for the almost casual use of the words OSHA (several times) this appears to have been written before OSHA became a reality, CAK let's discuss further @ Lee, et al. Reg #

A copy of guidelines for Non-Carbide Employee Safety is attached for your information at the request of Lou Swann. These guidelines were assembled by a group of location safety directors and supposedly have the U/A of all safety directors. They were not issued as standards on advice from the Law Department. Central Purchasing was represented in their formulation. Maybe the guidelines will aid in resolving your concern about noise protection for contract people.
