Subject. SHIPYARD BIBLIOGRAPHY

Attached is a list of papers in the medical/scientific literature that concern use of asbestos or asbestos-related disease in shipyards. This list has been compiled quickly using files we have in the Legal Department, the HS&E asbestos bibliography and the databases of the National Library of Medicine (Medline, Toxline, NTIS and NIOSH). For the NLM databases we requested citations in which both asbestos and its derivatives and the descriptors shipyard, dockyard, shipbuilding and ship repair appear.

I did not have time to check the accuracy of the references; neither have I checked the actual articles to make certain they meet our criteria. This list may not be complete either. I have indicated the JMEA number if the paper is in the HS&E system. "Copy available" means the paper does not have a JMEA accession number, but we do have copies at Manville. "Copy requested through HS&E" indicates that the article is not identified in the HS&E system and we will have to check whether copies are available in the HS&E Library. I believe we probably have the majority of the articles so marked. Ones we cannot find we will obtain through interlibrary loan.

Please bear in mind that these articles represent case reports, epidemiological studies, discussions of controls, editorials, review papers, etc. Very few of them will probably have a discussion of historical use of asbestos in shipyards.
