Attend Your Union Meetings

THIS is a call to duty—a call to rally every true union man to his post. Every union member has an obligation to attend every union meeting. Unions hold meetings for serious work of interest to every member. Every honest, earnest, straight-forward trade unionist should be in attendance at every meeting. Go to your union meeting and stay there until the minute of adjournment. Do not stay away or run away from union meetings because some individual or some group tries to monopolize the time of the meeting. Don't stay away because some individual or some small group tries to side-track attention to some rival or hostile movement—some movement designed to undermine or injure the real trade union movement.

In such cases the post of duty for every real trade unionist is in the union meeting.

There is more than personal desire at stake. There is a duty to be performed and no true trade unionist ever shirks a duty.

Go to every union meeting. Take active part. Stay to the end. If you are a delegate to the central body, go there at every meeting, take part—and stay to the finish.

Trade unionists, see that the best interests of the workers are protected and advanced. See that real American trade unionism is maintained and strengthened.

Build the movement stronger. Build its spirit and its organization. Build by being on the job.

General President's Report

Kansas City, Mo., April 10, 1925.

Greeting:

After the adjournment of the General Executive Board Session as of last report, your President journeyed to Boston, where he attended and represented our International Association at the Banquet or "Get together" of Local 6, the details of which appeared in the last Journal issue. The trade could stand many more occasions like this that bring the Workers, the Employers and Families together at the festive board. Then on to Cincinnati and attendance at a conference between the Cincinnati Employers and Local 8 Committee. This conference was held at request of Local 8, for the purpose of discussing a "better work" program. Little if anything came of this conference, due to the unwillingness of one particular shop to "go along." Then came a meeting of Local 8, at which the subject matter of "bonus" was discussed from all angles. This meeting attacked the question of poor workmanship by approaching it from the angle of the "bonus" system as practiced in the certain shop previously referred to, by passing a law calling for the EXPULSION of any member proven to have accepted any money from a shop other than an hourly wage for work actually performed. Local 8 had previous to this meeting expelled some seven members. It has since reconsidered its action and reduced the expulsion to a fine. At the present writing Local 8 is living to its agreement, working for an hourly wage and determined to drive the "bonus boys" out of our craft. Then came Cleveland, where a conference was held with International Vice-President Oliver. Then to Buffalo and conference with Business Agent Rice of Local No. 4 Then to Syracuse and a meeting of Local Union No. 30. Washington came next and a visit to the Building Trades Department. Next came attendance at the meeting of Local 24. Baltimore was next in line, where a meeting of Local No. 11 was attended. Then on to Philadelphia, where at a Local meeting of 14 your President learned that the K. & M. Shop had forced our men to strike by employing non-Union Asbestos Workers in violation of the agreement. Next came a conference on the K. & M. strike shop issue held between the Philadelphia Employers' Association and the Executive Board of Local 14, which ended by the Local proving its case and penalizing K. & M. in amount of $100.00. Then on to Albany, N. Y., where your President with other National and State Labor officials attended various hearings held on proposed Labor Legislation. Then came the Carey Conference at New York City, with which the membership is familiar and needs no further mention. Then to New Haven and a meeting of Local 33, that discussed the newly proposed wage agreement and requested your President to act with its Committee. Then to Albany and further work in connection with Labor Legislation. Then came Rochester and a meeting of Local 26 that considered a newly proposed wage agreement and requested your President to act with its Committee. Then came Detroit and a conference with Business Agent Coombs of Local 25. Then on to Cleveland and a conference with International Vice-President Oliver. Then to Youngstown and a meeting of Local 35, at which your President gave final decision on a much muddled financial audit of the Local. On this occasion he also gave several decisions for the especial benefit of the Local 35 membership, as also the membership of Cleveland Local 3, and Pittsburg Local 2, which were represented at the Youngstown meeting by Business Agents Oliver and Rust. Next came a confeernce between the Youngstown Employers and Committee of Local 35, which your President attended in company with International Vice-President Oliver. This conference came to no decision on the question of newly proposed wage rate. Then to Albany again for the final "show down" on Labor's Bills, of which the greater number were lost in the shuffle, including the Forty-eight Hours Work Week for Women and State Insurance exclusively for Compensation. Then to the Prison Labor Commission hearings. Then to Newark and a conference with Business Agent Reese and a meeting of Local 32. Then came a conference with International Vice-President Johnson on certain New England issues. Then to New Haven and a meeting of Local No. 33. Then to a conference held between the Connecticut Employers and Agreement Committee of Local No. 33, that agreed to disagree on the question of wage. Next came a "get together" of Local 33, that wished its former Business Agent, Geo. Tyrol, Godspeed on his journey to handle some power house work at Sioux City. He packed his belongings for the trip in a beautiful traveling bag presented him by your President, at the request and in the name of the Local 33 membership. Boston was next in line, where a meeting of the New England Joint Conference considered all New England Local trade agreements and came to certain definite decisions thereon. Then on to Rochester and attendance at a trade agreement conference held between the Employers Association and Local 26 Agreement Committee, at which no progress was made as to the form of agreement itself or the wage rate. Your President DISAPPROVED the form of Agreement as tendered by the Employers. Then came the Local meeting at Rochester, that received the report of its Agreement Committee and deferred action. Then on to Detroit and the settlement of the Carey Shop issue, as outlined in general trade letter, with which the membership is familiar. On this occasion your President approved of some fifteen applications from the Carey Shop, which at this writing is running strictly Union. The immediate results of this Carey Shop settlement at Detroit was found in the fact that the very next day the main force of the Morgan Shop made application to Local 25 for membership. Then to Chicago and a conference with International Vice-President Holland and Business Agent Mulligan of Local 17. Then came the meeting of Local 17, that ended in a big fight. The scrapping was fast and furious, and one of the quietest your President ever witnessed in a meeting hall. It was a screen showing of the Dempsey-Firpo championship go. Indianapolis came next and attendance at a conference between the Indianapolis Employers and Trade Agreement Committee of Local 18, that consummated an

Published by AsbestosClaims.Law
asbestosclaims.law/library/21359/4

agreement for the ensuing year. Then to St. Louis and work of an executive nature at the General Office. Then to Kansas City and a meeting of Local 27, at which both advice and decision were given by your President on certain Local issues. It is strangely coincidental that your President concludes this Quarterly Report in manner identically the same as he did his last by regretting the passing of a member of Philadelphia Local 14, who was a former International Vice-President. Your President purposely refrained from officially mentioning the death of Brother "Allie" Ewen, who was drowned some months ago, until such time as his body was recovered and laid to rest with an International officer present at the interment. Brother Ewen went down with the pleasure launch of which he was both owner and Captain, and in all probability the time has past for the recovery of his body. "Allie's" infectious smile and jovial nature endeared him to all who knew him, and he will be missed among his friends who were legion. May he rest in peace.

Fraternally,

Joseph A. Mullaney

President.

THREE GATES OF GOLD

If you are tempted to reveal
A tale someone to you has told
About another, make it pass
Before you speak, three gates of gold.

Three narrow gates: First, "Is it true?"
Then "Is it needful?" In your mind
Give truthful answer. And the next
Is last and narrowest—"Is it kind?"

And if to reach your lips at last,
It passes through these gateways three,
Then you may tell the tale, nor fear
What the result of speech may be.

—The Pilgrim.

BE SQUARE

Hold your tongue when prudent. Speak to a friend in a seedy coat. If you can't lend a man money, tell him why. If you don't want to, do the same. Cut acquaintances who lack principle. Bear with infirmities but not with vices. Respect honesty, despise duplicity. Wear your old clothes till you can pay for new ones. Aim at comfort, and propriety, not fashion. Acknowledge your ignorance, and don't pretend knowledge you haven't got. Entertain your friends, but never beyond your means. Then you will always have money to pay your lodge dues.

Don't be guided by unfair papers, or employers' magazines. Hear both sides of the Labor question.

A labor union is like a bank. If you expect to get anything out of it you must put something into it.

"People talk about agitators but the only real agitator is injustice; and the only way is to correct the injustice and allay the agitation."

A good reputation is more valuable than money. Establish your reputation as a booster for the Label, card, and button.

BE NOT AFRAID

He who fears criticism is hopeless. Only those who do things are criticised. The idler is lost sight of in the march of events, but the doer is watched—and criticised. To hesitate for fear of criticism loses the battle while the doers march on to victory and triumph. Indecision is a great harbinger; but to hesitate for fear of criticism is cowardly. If your cause is right, be not afraid of criticism; advocate it, expound it, and, if need be, fight for it. Critics there always have been and always will be, but to the strong-minded they are a help rather than a hindrance. As the horse spurts forward when prodded with the spur, so the doers forge ahead under the lash of criticism. Take your part on life's stage and play your part to the end; stand for that which is good; be a doer, not a drone; look the world in the face and let the critics criticise; keep them busy and if you can eliminate only one of the many reprehensible practices which are operating around you, something has been achieved. Again we say to you, keep the critics busy.

—The Australian Triple Link.

Labor must work out its own salvation. Wage workers can attain that degree of well-being to which they are entitled only by their own efforts. The general public can not be expected to do for them what they fail to do for themselves, nor would it be desirable that those rights and benefits to which they are entitled should be handed down to them by the Government or by organized society as grace from above.

Four Billion Shortage in Building Shown in Cities

After making a survey of conditions in 528 cities in the United States of over 10,000 population, S. W. Straus & Co. conclude that an actual building shortage of more than $4,000,000,000 exists in 380 of the cities. In 148 cities no shortage was reported.

That the $4,000,000,000 figure does not represent the entire housing shortage of the country was indicated by reports from towns under 10,000 population. Inquiry in twenty typical towns of this type in various parts of the United States revealed a shortage of $14,591,000. Of these cities surveyed twelve showed shortages and eight revealed normal conditions.

The investigation also revealed definite contemplated expenditures during the next two years of $767,404,000 for the construction of hospitals, churches, charitable and educational institutions or other public buildings. These figures are not included in the reports of actual shortages now existing.

The analysis says that in Chicago, the greatest need is for commercial, federal, state and municipal types of construction, as the city practically has reached a temporary saturation point in residential types in a number of localities.

Of the twenty-five leading cities, New York led with a shortage of $855,000,000, the greater part of which is needed for residential types of buildings. Chicago, with a shortage of $501,543,000, is second. Philadelphia reported a shortage of $240,000,000, while the figures for other cities were very much smaller.

Ontario's "Slops"

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, observing in person the consumption by Canadians and thousands of visiting Americans of the newly legalized beer, at Toronto, a few days ago, expressed his opinion that "the whole thing was a joke," and that the beverage, containing 4.4 per cent of alcohol, was nothing but "slops."

Did Mr. Wheeler contemptuously use the word "slops" in his characterization of the 4.4 beer because after several hours of drinking no one appeared to be really drunk? And if the experiment is a joke, as Mr. Wheeler says, on whom is the joke? Is it not on Mr. Volstead and the American prohibitionists who solemnly pronounced any beverage with an alcoholic content of more than one-half of one per cent intoxicating?

How could the general counsel of the Antisaloon League have the nerve to condemn 4.4 beer as "slops," knowing that the American people, through the activity of his organization, dare not indulge in any beverage containing as much as one-half of one per cent of alcohol? The Canadian beer, in Mr. Wheeler's opinion, is a joke on the drinker. The Associated Press reported that no part of the Province of Ontario had a single arrest for intoxication.

Could anything prove more convincingly that the Volstead act, defining drink containing one-half of one per cent of alcohol as intoxicating, is a denial of fact and the experience, a tyrannous and unreasonable exercise of power, coercing millions of citizens to satisfy the demands of intolerance?

CORRESPONDENCE

May 15, 1925.

Thos J. McNamara,
803 United Home Bldg.,
St. Louis, Mo.

Dear Sir and Brother:

Can report that Boston Local 6 and Springfield Local 43 have signed a three year agreement; 1st year present rates of wages; 2nd year wages to be determined by arbitration; 3rd year wages to be determined by arbitration, with the understanding that the present rates of wages, (Mechanics $1.10 per hour, Improvers 65 cents and 80 cents per hour) are to continue during the life of the agreement as the minimum wage and that arbitration the second and third year means that we shall arbitrate for increases only.

Yours fraternally,
E. A. JOHNSON.

To the International and all local unions:

Greetings:

Local No. 25 of Detroit wish to congratulate our International President Joseph A. Mullaney for the very efficient manner in which he handled the Carey situation, also to thank the trade in general for their splendid co-operation.

This has been a great victory for us all, and particularly Detroit, where the open shop has flourished for the past four years.

In Mr. William Brown of the Carey Co. the open shop in Detroit lost one of its most staunch friends and workers. We feel that this is the beginning of the end of the open shop in our trade in Detroit. In the near future we hope to inform you that Detroit is 100% union for the Asbestos Workers and with such splendid co-operation as our President extends we are sure of it.

Let's put our shoulder to the wheel and extend to MULLANEY the help that he extends to us.

UNIONS ASKED TO WAIT FOR INSURANCE PLAN

Washington, May 23.—In a statement to central labor unions, Matthew Woll, chairman of the A. F. of L. special committee on insurance, asks organized labor to withhold indorsements of all insurance proposals until the committee reports.

The committee consists of Messrs. Woll and George W. Perkins and is under instructions to study the subject of insurance. Mr. Woll states that a report, with recommendations of fundamental importance, will be issued in the near future.

Efforts to interest trade unions in private insurance undertakings will interfere with the more comprehensive and more effective plans the A. F. of L. special committee on insurance is developing and will soon present to the officers of national and international unions, said Mr. Woll.

"You are, therefore, urged to withhold favorable consideration to any such proposals until the submission of the A. F. of L. committee report and thus enable us to unite the forces of labor on the subject of insurance and prevent division in our ranks, which can only benefit private insurance companies."

Thos. J. McNamara,
803 United Home Bldg.,
St. Louis, Mo.

Dear sir and Brother:

Election of Officers was held at meeting of Local 6 Thursday, June 4th, and resulted in placing into office for the next year, President E. A. Johnson, Vice-President John Fisher, Secy. Treas. C. S. Couglin, Rec. Secy. William Lally, Business Representative O. W. Palm and Secretary. The only contest on the ballot was for the office of Business Representative, and the result was gratifying to the membership of the Local.

Local No. 6 has been honored by having one of our Brothers, Olaf Johnson, selected by the Johns-Manville Co. to the position of shop foreman, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Henry Braun, an account of his death having been published in last Journal issue.

We congratulate the Johns-Manville Co. and believe they have chosen wisely and well. Brother Johnson is a young man but old in experience, one who always took a keen interest in our work, since he started to work at the trade fifteen years ago, and has always executed his work with credit to himself and the craft.

He always demanded first class work on operations he was in charge of, and was loyal to the men that worked with him and to his employers, insisting upon the rights of the members of Local 6 without deviating from the principles of fair play and justice to his employers, and we feel that Brother Johnson in his position of Shop Foreman will still continue his policy of equality, justice and first class workmanship.

The membership of Local 6 extend to Brother Johnson our congratulations and wish him success. We ask that this letter be printed in the Trade Journal to show, that there are men that do succeed and forge ahead by applying the principle of trade unionism as Brother Johnson has, and that it is possible to do justice to the union and the employer and be recognized as one who has the faith of his fellow workers.

Yours fraternally,
OSCAR W. PALM,
Corresponding Secretary.

EXECUTIVE BOARD REPORT

The recommendation of our International President of a 10c weekly assessment upon the entire membership of our International Association for the Tulsa Local, was concurred in by

Jos. A. Mullaney, President — Thomas J. McNamara, Secretary-Treasurer
Henry H. Holland — E. A. Johnson
Henry J. Oliver
Vice-Presidents

This assessment just covered one week, as the strike was called off.

Wage reductions of 10 to 15 per cent in the Birmingham steel district is a choice morsel seized upon by the New York Journal of Commerce as a prediction that wage reductions will follow in all the basic industries, and that the movement should not prove unwelcome. Of course, such action on the part of employers would not be unwelcome to the constituents of the Journal of Commerce, but happily there are a vast number who are yet able to resist such "adjustments" which the organs of big business declare are so essential at this time.

KEEP AWAY

Keep away from all live apparatus,
If you value your life very much,
For the limbs you received a-la-gratis,
Were not meant to be steered by a crutch.
Be you very familiar or stranger,
And you care not to flirt with a nurse,
Keep away from all signs painted "Danger,"
And you'll never have need for a hearse.

Be you helper or wise electrician,
And for years you have handled the pliers,
You will surely be sent to perdition,
If you carelessly touch any wires.
Never think of your sweetheart or garden,
While you're mending some cable that's hot,
For that cable will not beg your pardon,
When you lie bandaged upon a cot.

Never touch a machine while it's running,
Better wait till it moves somewhat calmer,
If you don't like a black suit that stunning,
And don't care to employ an embalmer.
If you're joining two pieces of metal,
And it's hot while you're pouring the solder,
Keep your mind on the work and the kettle,
Or you'll go to a place where it's hotter.

Keep away, keep away, I remind you,
From flashes and sparks tainted blue,
I would rather see you do the praying,
Than see people praying for you.
Keep away, keep away, I remind you,
Not merely alone for your life,
But the folks that you will leave behind you,
Your home, and your kids and your wife.

ABE LIPSCHUTZ,
With Phila. Electric Co.

ORGANIZE AND EDUCATE

It is a tremendous task to organize and educate the rank and the file of the laboring people. Yet that is the task that the union movement has set out to accomplish and although there remains far more undone than has yet been accomplished, still the union movement has made more headway during the few brief years of its existence, than was accomplished in thousands of years previously by all the sages, statesmen and wise men who preceded the advent of organized labor.

If so much headway has been made in a period of less than fifty years against the virulent opposition that characterized the earlier stages of the union movement when it had to fight for its very existence, what can we not expect during the coming fifty years when public sentiment is swinging around to be favorable to the union cause?

Now, as during the first beginning of the union movement, the hope of making headway lies in organization and education. It requires eternal hammering away along these lines to get anywhere. It is a case of organize and educate all the time. Those that are not in the union must be got in. Those who don't see and understand must be shown. Those who are in must be trained, disciplined and educated.

To do this requires patience. It cannot be done in a day, in a year, nor in a life-time. It will take more than one generation to complete the job. But real headway is being made in our day.

SUPREME COURT DESTROYS KANSAS INDUSTRIAL COURT

Washington. — Compulsory arbitration of industrial disputes is declared unconstitutional and a knockout blow given to the Kansas court of industrial relations in a decision by the supreme court of the United States.

Under the Kansas law the industrial court had the power to fix wages and hours of labor, and compel the operation of essential industries, with penalties for both employers and employes for refusing to obey the court's mandate.

The law came before the supreme court on an appeal by the Charles Wolff packing company against an order of the industrial court fixing hours of labor in its plant.

In its decision the supreme court holds that the compulsory system of arbitration enacted into law by the Kansas legislature when it created the industrial court violated the rights of freedom of contract and property guaranteed by the due process of law clause of the federal constitution.

"The established doctrine is that this liberty may not be interfered with under the guise of protecting the public interest by legislative action which is arbitrary or without reasonable relation to some purpose within the competency of the state to effect," the decision declares.

Last year the supreme court decided that the power of the industrial court to fix wages was unconstitutional. The present decision that its power to fix hours is also unconstitutional practically kills the celebrated child of Gov. Henry Allen of Kansas.

Topeka, Kans., April 18—The Kansas court of industrial relations, by name, ceased to exist a month ago when the legislature created a new state public service commission which absorbed its powers.

JUDGES ARE ONE-SIDED IN LABOR DISPUTES

Springfield, Mass., May 23 — "Try as I may, I can not get the viewpoint of certain judges who seem to think that the employer has all the rights in a dispute with his employes and that personal rights of employes must be restrained," said John A. Gatelee, president of the local central labor union.

"The attitude of our courts in these matters seem to be somewhat like tying down a safety valve on a superheated boiler.

"What greater rights has the employer to force arbitrary adjustments upon his employes than they have to resist them? Has he any greater stake in industry than has the worker? To the workers, employment means food, fuel, shelter—even life itself. When the employer strikes at conditions of his employes he justly subjects himself to the return blow, which takes the form of strike, picketing and boycott."
