REPORT OF THE GENERAL PRESIDENT

Elmhurst, L. I., June 30, 1937.

To the Officers and Membership, Affiliated Locals,

Greetings:

The activities of your President during the past quarter began with a trip to Albany where, with Business Agent Fallon, he met the Employers and interpreted the International form of Joint Trade Agreement negotiated by Business Agent Fallon. This agreement was ratified by a special meeting of Local No. 40 which followed. Wage increase 12½c, with 12½c to follow 90 days later, with board and transportation.

Then to Syracuse and the regular quarterly meeting of the New York State Conference, which held its usual business-like session.

The next stop was Pittsburgh and a conference with Vice-President Hennig.

Cleveland next and a conference with Vice-President Dalton and Local President McIntyre.

Chicago came next and a conference with Vice-President Mulligan.

Then to St. Louis and a conference with Organizer Hanlon.

The next stop-off was Kansas City and a conference with Organizer Barrett and a meeting of Employers which laid the ground-work for the recently issued Wichita, Kans., charter, Local Union No. 15, placed on our craft map by Organizer Barrett.

Memphis was the next stop and a conference with Business Agent Crawford and Secretary Finley and later to the "open house" meeting of Local No. 90, that celebrated its first signed Trade Agreement. A number of our International membership working in Memphis territory were among the many Memphis laborites and others in attendance, partaking of the refreshments.

Then to Mobile and a conference with President Gonzalez and Business Agent Post, of Local No. 55.

New Orleans was the next stop and a special meeting of Local No. 53, at which your President gave advice and decision on certain pending Local issues.

Next came Houston, where the scheduled session of the Southwest States Conference was found to be postponed out of respect to its President, Bro. E. J. Essary, whose son, Delmore, had died. The latter was a member of Local No. 21, of which his father is the President and Business Agent. While in Houston our Texas Employers and your President were the dinner guests of Local No. 22 with Organizer Reed as toastmaster.

Then came the West Coast and Los Angeles where, with Organizer Michener and Business Agent Christian, the Local situation was given full consideration. Trips to Wilmington and our Marine shop and to San Diego, were sandwiched in among other activities. Later came a meeting of Local No. 5 now working under Joint Trade Agreement.

San Francisco came next where, in company with Business Agent Brown, a conference was held with the Employers and certain Local issues given attention. Later came a meeting of Local No. 16 now working under Joint Trade Agreement.

Next came Vallejo and a meeting of Local No. 70, Mare Island Ship Yard, that found Business Agent Brown and a committee from Local No. 16 in attendance, extending fraternal greetings.

Sacramento was the next stop where Business Agent Brown and a committee from Local No. 16 participated in the preliminaries to the organizing of the Asbestos Workers of Sacramento and vicinity, since chartered as Local No. 23.

The next jump was to Portland where a conference with Business Agent Jeude, a shop visit, and a meeting of Local No. 36 were held.

Tacoma came next with a conference with Business Agent Hemmings and a meeting of Local No. 50.

Then to Seattle, a conference with Business Agent Thompson and a meeting of Local No. 7.

Spokane came next, a conference with President Dellwo and Business Agent Curtis and a shop visit. While in Spokane, Brothers Dellwo and Curtis motored your President to the Grand Coulee Dam, now half completed and the sight of a lifetime, particularly to any one familiar with heavy construction work.

Minneapolis was next in line and a conference with Business Agent Kingston and Secretary Anthony, followed by a meeting of Local No. 34.

The next stop was Milwaukee and a conference with Business Agent Hug, of Local No. 19.

Then to Chicago and a conference with Vice-President Mulligan.

Indianapolis was the next stop where, after a conference with Business Agent Ray, your President was the dinner guest of the Joint Trade Board. A meeting of Local No. 18 came later.

Then to Cincinnati, where your President and Vice-President Mulligan represented our International Association at the conference called by President Green of the American Federation of Labor. This two-day session adopted ways and financial means which included the doubling of the per capita tax, for an extensive organizing program. While at Cincinnati your President held conference with Business Agent Sullivan, of Local No. 8, and Vice-President Dalton, who was representing the Building Trades Council of Cleveland.

Then a short stay at home and to Washington and work at the General Office.

Next came Newark where, with Business Agent Reiss and the Local Agreement Committee, your President met the Employers and discussed their proposals for a Joint Trade Agreement. These proposals were submitted to a special meeting of Local No. 32 and rejected. This meeting adopted counter-proposals which were later accepted by the Employers in conference with the Local Committee and your President. President Suppicich and Business Agent Brown were present on this occasion in the interests of Local No. 91 in "over-lapping" territory where its wage rate ($1.65) and board ($2.25) will prevail. The International form of Joint Trade Agreement, transportation, board and $1.50 per hour (10c hourly increase) now governs Local No. 32 territory.

Published by AsbestosClaims.Law
asbestosclaims.law/library/21432/4

Columbus was next and a session of the Central States Conference with its President Dalton presiding. It proved, among other things, that the old "permit" system is no more and that Conference Locals see to it that their idle membership is distributed so as to supply the labor needs of any Conference Local unable to supply the demand. Upon the adjournment of the Conference your President with Vice-Presidents Dalton and Hennig held an executive session and heard Business Agent McElroy and Secretary Ashton, of Local No. 25, with Business Agent Muncie, of Evansville, Local No. 37, in re: the organizing of the Upper Michigan Peninsula. Local No. 47 is now doing business in the Grand Rapids-Lansing-Jackson territory.

During his swing around the country your President found our craft work brisk on the East Coast, West Coast, South and Southwest with some Locals working travelers. In other territories, Detroit, and particularly Cleveland, somehow fail to share in the general betterment. In the East, New York City is having more than its share of idleness. These Locals can supply labor to any territory needing additional help.

In conclusion, your President is certain that from the interest now being shown by our membership, our coming convention will find present the largest attendance of delegates in our history and he hopes to see all Locals represented with voice and vote in legislating for the best interest of our craft.

Fraternally,

Joseph A. Mulligan

REPORT OF THE
SECRETARY-TREASURER

Washington, D. C., June 30, 1937.

To the Officers and Membership, Affiliated Locals,

Greetings:

The activities of your Secretary-Treasurer away from the General Office during the past Quarter, in accordance with instructions of President Mullaney, began with attendance at the New England States Conference quarterly meeting at Boston, Mass., minutes of which appear elsewhere in this Journal issue. Later came hearing on the Appeal of Bro. B. Viglione against trial action and penalty of his home Local No. 6, Boston, Mass., result of which is listed under "Decisions" in this issue.

Next came Baltimore, Md., as the guest of Local No. 11, at their outing at which all present, including the Employers, spent a very enjoyable day.

Then came special meeting of our Washington, D. C., Local Union, at which the full time Business Agent policy via the work day assessment system was adopted and Bro. Robert J. Needham elected to so serve Local No. 24.

Hartford, Conn., came next and in company with Brother Haake met and conferred with Mr. John Lotz, Jr., of the Lotz Insulation Company (this shop running non-union some months). This conference concluded with the signing of Joint Trade Agreement by Mr. Lotz as also his contribution to charity in the amount of one hundred dollars. Later a special meeting of Local No. 33, which found the Local Agreement Committee and the Employers agreeing to disagree on the new Joint Trade Agreement. Your Secretary-Treasurer was authorized by unanimous vote of this meeting to act as a committee of one with full authority to negotiate a new Joint Trade Agreement for the Local. This meeting also voiced their disapproval of the part-time Business Agent policy and voted the full-time policy via the work day assessment system.

Then to Pittsburgh and with Vice-Presidents Mulligan and Dalton was guest of Local No. 2 at their banquet in celebration of their new meeting hall and office. These quarters now occupied by our Pittsburgh Local are second to none in the country.

Next came organization meeting of the Washington, D. C., Joint Trade Board as provided for in the existing Joint Trade Agreement. This meeting adjourned with all in attendance in accord and agreeing to make same a permanent agency by holding quarterly meetings in the future.

Then to Baltimore together with Business Agent Needham, of Washington Local No. 24, and attendance at regular meeting of Local No. 11, at which time several trade questions were explained to the end that a better and more harmonious relation should exist between our sister Locals of Baltimore and Washington.

Next, together with Business Agent Needham, as the guests of our Norfolk and Portsmouth, Va., Local No. 9, at their annual barbecue which proved a huge success with many of the Local laborites, Employers, City and County Executives and their U. S. Congressman, enjoying the festivities.

Published by AsbestosClaims.Law
asbestosclaims.law/library/21432/7

Then to Baltimore and organization meeting of the Baltimore Trade Board where, as above reported for Washington, all agreed to do their share to make the Board a permanent one.

Returned to Baltimore and Local No. 11 meeting which endorsed the actions of the recently organized Joint Trade Board and among other things adopted the "specified daily board allowance" fast finding favor in new Joint Trade Agreements as against the old "board as actually expended clause."

Then to New York City and conference with certain Employers re: Trade Agreements and interpretations.

Meriden, Conn., came next and your Secretary-Treasurer as committee of one representing Local No. 33 met with the Employers and negotiated a new Joint Trade Agreement which among other changes provides an increase of 12½c per hour, making the rate $1.37½ for the year July 1, 1937, to June 30, 1938. Next a special meeting of Local No. 33 Executive Board, who drafted provisions, rules and regulations covering the newly adopted full-time Business Agent policy. Later a special meeting of Local No. 33, which ratified the new agreement as outlined by your Secretary-Treasurer. At this special meeting the annual election of officers was held and Brother John Gaspic was elected as their Business Agent under the full-time policy for a two-year term.

Next came Richmond, Va., Local No. 88 regular meeting at which several issues of interest to the membership of this Local were given the consideration due and procedure outlined.

Then came the audit of our Washington Local No. 24, which found the finances of the Local in a healthy condition and the records as maintained under the "Local Union System of Bookkeeping" comprehensive and easily audited.

In conclusion I wish to report that the duplicate credentials and communications being received at the General Office indicate that our coming Convention at Chicago will be well attended.

Fraternally,

C. W. Sickles

Secretary-Treasurer

Employers Must Make Record of Employees' Account Numbers, Says Social Security Board

Make sure that your employer has a record of your social security account number.

Not only this, but make sure that every employer you have worked for since the beginning of the year has a record of your number.

Put it in writing in a letter, so there can be no mistake about it. Mail it to any employer you may have worked for earlier in the year, and keep a record of your letter in each case.

This is important. The amount of your old-age benefits may depend upon it.

This word went out to wage earners all over the country today from the Social Security Board, with another call to any who have not yet obtained their social security account numbers, urging all such workers to make application at once.

The reason why all this is important is pointed out by LeRoy Hodges, Director of the Bureau of Old-Age Benefits of the Social Security Board, as follows:

Each wage earner must have an account number in order that his social security account may not be confused with any other;

Employers must know the account number of each and every person on their pay roll, because they must give those numbers when they make their regular reports to the Government showing the amount of wages paid to each employee.

The amount of each employee's wages is credited by the Social Security Board to the account bearing his number. His wages will be posted to this account quarterly from July on;

The total amount of wages received by the employee on jobs covered by the Social Security Act, from the beginning of this year until he is 65 years old, will be used to calculate the amount of his old-age benefit payments when they come due.

At the same time that the Board is sending out this word to wage earners, it is calling upon employers to make sure that all their employees have account numbers, and if necessary, to file application for those who have not already secured their numbers.

Employees and employers alike are reminded that it makes no difference whether a worker is on the pay roll for a day, a week, or a month or more. All must be accounted for in the employer's return.

"The successful completion of the initial task of assigning social security account numbers to eligible workers in commerce and industry throughout the country," said Mr. Hodges, "depends upon the complete cooperation of both employers and employees. Employers should, whenever possible, get in touch with their former employees and secure their account numbers, and employees in turn should make every effort to transmit such information to them."

REPORTS OF THE
VICE-PRESIDENTS

Chicago, Ill., June 30, 1937.

To the Officers and Membership, Affiliated Locals:

Greetings:

During the last quarter I investigated the Kalamazoo, Mich., request for charter which was referred to me by the General Executive Board. I recommended it be denied and the General Executive Board later so decided.

I visited Milwaukee and heard the appeal of Berndt vs. Local No. 19 which was referred to me by the General Executive Board. I recommended the appeal of Brother Berndt be upheld, and the General Executive Board later so decided.

I visited Pittsburgh and represented President Mullaney at the housewarming of Local No. 2, held in its new meeting rooms. These quarters, in the Peoples Alliance Building, are modern in every respect. The office of Business Agent Hennig of Local No. 2 is equipped right up to the minute and a credit to the Local and our craft. Vice-President Dalton, Secretary-Treasurer Sickles, and President McIntyre of Local No. 3 also attended this get-together. All of us fully enjoyed the banquet and entertainment that followed.

Under instructions of President Mullaney, I met him in Cincinnati where we represented our International Association at the Conference called by President Green.

I am at present kept busy attending to the details of our coming Convention which I find will be attended by a larger number of delegates than we had in 1930.

I will close by stating that I am sure the many friends of Thomas "Pop" Curry, of Local No. 12, will be pleased to learn that he is convalescing and, condition permitting, will attend the Convention as the invited guest of Local No. 17.

See you at the Convention!

Fraternally,

HUGH E. MULLIGAN,
International Vice-President.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 2, 1937.

To the Officers and Membership, Affiliated Locals:

Greetings:

On Thursday, July 1, in accordance with instructions of President Mullaney, I went to Lansing, Mich., to meet Mr. C. E. Murphy, Jr., of the Murphy Asbestos Co., and Mr. E. A. Struble, of the Jackson Insulation Co., at the Olds Hotel at 7:30 p. m. After two hours discussion regarding granting a charter for Lansing, Jackson and Grand Rapids, Mich., it was mutually agreed that we meet again on Friday, after meeting that night with Murphy's and Jackson's men in regards to signing a trade agreement.

A meeting was called at the labor temple in Lansing, Mich. About twenty asbestos workers were present including men from Grand Rapids.

Published by AsbestosClaims.Law
asbestosclaims.law/library/21432/13

The constitution and by-laws of our International were outlined to the members present. All new members were obligated and election of officers was held, also per capita tax to the International rules and regulations pertaining to our trade outlined. Business Agent Muncie was instructed to get a map and work out radius for Local No. 47 and to cooperate in every way with Local No. 25 of Detroit.

On Friday, July 2, with Business Agent Muncie, we met Mr. C. E. Murphy, Jr., of Murphy Asbestos Co., and he signed an International agreement.

Later in the day we went to Jackson, Mich., where we met Mr. E. A. Struble, of the Jackson Asbestos Co., and he also signed the International agreement.

I have also been informed from Mr. Stadler, of the Stadler Asbestos Co., of Grand Rapids, Mich., that he will also sign an International agreement with Local No. 47.

At this time I want to thank Bro. Frank McElroy, Business agent of Local No. 25, Business Agent Muncie, of Local No. 47, and the employers for their cooperation in getting these agreements signed.

Fraternally yours,

AL. DALTON,
International Vice-President.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 30, 1937.

To the Officers and Membership, Affiliated Locals:

Greetings:

As instructed by President Jos. A. Mullaney, I went to Youngstown, Ohio, on March 27, 1937, to try and have an agreement signed for Local No. 35.

There I met Bros. Jos. Meredith and W. E. Latto and after a conference with them we went to the office of Mr. J. D. Aspin.

We met Mr. Aspin and Mr. Stephen Harrison, who represented the Employers' Association, and after a long discussion the agreement was signed as originally submitted to them.

The agreement calls for a 5c per hour increase in wages, and to restore the Board, traveling time and expenses.

On June 26, I attended the Central States Conference at Columbus, Ohio, with President Mullaney and Vice-President Dalton.

Fraternally yours,

GEO. R. HENNIG,
International Vice-President.

"Bob" Stevenson

PENSIONED

Robert "Bob" Stephenson, the oldest active member in our International Association, has laid down his tools and will spend his remaining days on a monthly pension of forty dollars unanimously voted him by Local No. 17, Chicago. This action is the first of its kind ever taken by one of our affiliated Local Unions.

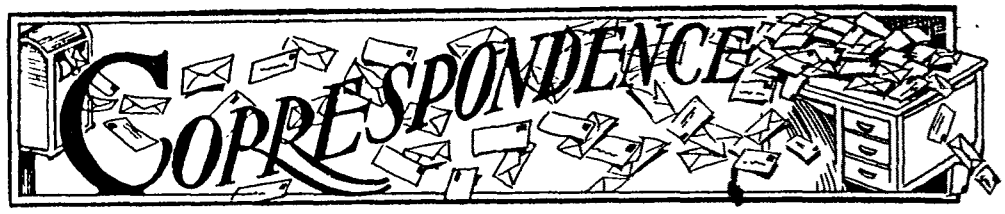

Brother Stephenson, still remarkably spry and mentally alert for a man of his years, first saw the light August 7, 1856, at Edmonton, London, England. He started in our craft as an Apprentice in 1872 on maintenance work at the Bass Brewery, Burton-on-Trent, Staffordshire.

The early eighties found him in the United States at work in New England territory for the Asbestos Packing Company of Boston. In October, 1885, he went to work for the Chicago branch of the Asbestos Packing Company, George E. Titcomb, manager. He has lived there since.

In the Spring of 1893, Brother Stephenson was among the Asbestos Workers who organized the first Local in Chicago. It was short-lived. Later, in 1899, he was mainly responsible for the organizing of the Chicago Asbestos Workers and having them chartered by the Knights of Labor as "Local No. 1, Chicago Pipe and Boiler Coverers Association." This Local was the fore-runner of our present Local No. 17.

Brother Stephenson has lived a long and honorable life among us. May he be permitted to remain for some years to come.

Dear Sir and Brother:

In behalf of Local No. 33 I wish to take this opportunity to express our thanks and appreciation to Secretary Sickles for having successfully brought about the signing of a new satisfactory Joint Trade Agreement.

Acting as a committee of one with full authority Brother Sickles successfully negotiated for the membership of Local No. 33 an hourly increase of 12½c per hour, bringing our hourly rate up to $1.37½, effective July 1, 1937.

With best wishes, I remain

Dear Sir and Brother:

On May 3. 1937, Local No. 2, of Pittsburgh, Pa., held a banquet in their new quarters, the Peoples Alliance Building, which is Pittsburgh's new home for Organized Labor. It is a beautiful five-story building, all remodeled and newly decorated, having a cafe dining room, club and lounge rooms for members and their families. These rooms are furnished with the latest modernistic furniture, and all the Locals, including Local No. 2, have furnished their offices in the same way.

Local No. 2 had for its guests, from the Executive Board of the International, Bros. Hugh Mulligan, Al Dalton, C. W. Sickles, and Geo. R. Hennig. Brother Mullaney, being on a western trip, was unable to attend, but sent a wire wishing us much success. Bro. Thos. McIntyre, President of Local No. 3, and many other Labor Representatives, were also present. All our Employers honored us with their presence, and it was one big happy family. We had music, an excellent floor show which entertained all evening, and refreshments were served until midnight.

All in all, it was a huge success and enjoyed by all.

Dear Sir and Brother:

On May 8, Local No. 70 was honored by a visit of our General President, Joseph A. Mullaney, at a special meeting of our membership.

Brother Mullaney gave us a very interesting story of the origin and growth of craft unionism. He also cleared up to our great satisfaction the status of Navy Yard local union members as regards their Traveling Card rights.

We were impressed and pleased with Brother Mullaney's democratic manner and the admirable gift he possesses of putting his hearers at ease at a meeting.

We will be glad to have Brother Mullaney visit us again when he comes to the coast.

Fraternally yours,
WARREN B. HACKETT,
Secretary, Local No. 70.

Dear Sir and Brother:

On July 1, Local No. 32, of Hudson and Essex County, New Jersey, signed agreements with the Asbestos Contractors Association of Northern New Jersey, after a lengthy dickering of several months.

Our International President, Joseph A. Mullaney, came to a meeting of the Employers in May, then to a special meeting of the local in June and finally on July 1, the agreement was signed. On another occasion Secretary C. W. Sickles was called in to a special meeting.

Local No. 91, White Plains, was represented by Business Agent Frank Brown and President Peter Suppicich on an overlapping territory clause.

In our agreement the rate per hour for mechanics is $1.50 and for improvers $1.10. Also a clause that if the steamfitter gets an increase we automatically follow out the agreement to go in effect June 21, 1937, and to expire May 31, 1938.

Local No. 32 membership appreciates the cooperation of the International Officers and our agreement committee.

Dear Sir and Brother:

On April 29, 1937, our International President, Joseph A. Mullaney, attended a special meeting of Local No. 53, New Orleans, La.

His visit was indeed timely and assisted us materially in straightening out certain issues in regard to which the membership of Local No. 53 were in doubts as to method of procedure.

President Mullaney was further instrumental in affecting the re-affiliation of certain former members of our International Association with Local No. 53, which will in the end prove beneficial to all concerned.

Local No. 53 wishes to express their sincere appreciation to President Mullaney for his recent visit and assure him of an open door on his return to this territory which we trust will be in the near future.

I further want to express the sincere appreciation of the membership of Local No. 19 and myself for the recent visit paid us by International Vice-President Hugh E. Mulligan who at that time straightened out certain problems in the interest of the membership of Local No. 19.

Dear Sir and Brother:

AGAIN LOCAL NO. 91 TRIUMPHS.

It is with the greatest of pleasure that I can report that the dividends of a successful Business Agent on the road full time are far above par.

Our Business Agent Frank Brown's latest achievement was the complete shut down of the Avery Walsh Company in Westchester, Rockland and Orange Counties.

He was successful in having the Durkes Heating and Plumbing Co. withdraw three good contract jobs from the Walsh shop.

The contracts are as follows: Wingdale, Wassaic and Mattawan jobs.

The Avery Walsh shop is a non-union shop out of Albany, N. Y., and has been for some years back.

Sister Locals please take notice that a good Business Agent on the road is the greatest asset on which any trade can place its foundation for the future.

Dear Sir and Brother:

Local No. 55 wishes to take this opportunity to express its appreciation to our International President Joseph A. Mullaney, for his presence at our April 28 meeting.

President Mullaney at this meeting succeeded in straightening out several misunderstandings which occurred among our local membership recently and the local is indeed glad to have had the benefit of his assistance in these problems. We only regret that the entire membership was not present at this meeting.

Hoping that President Mullaney will be with us again in the near future and in attendance at another meeting of Local No. 55, I am,

With each and every shop represented by our employers and executive board of Local No. 18, a 6 o'clock dinner was served. Many points of interest were discussed and a fine and enjoyable evening was spent.

At 8 o'clock a special meeting with the membership of Local No. 18 with Brother Mullaney presiding. Many explanations of the problems of the day and many questions were answered and the meeting came to a close all too soon. The Local joins in their thanks to Brother Mullaney and we are looking forward to his next visit.

Dear Sir and Brother:

Through the columns of "The Asbestos Worker" Local No. 16 takes this means of conveying the thought to our Brother Locals of the great help and advice that President Mullaney rendered us while here on his Pacific Coast trip.

Also for the numerous ironing out of the many misunderstandings that were prevalent among our members.

President Mullaney was also a great help to us when he called on the representatives of the Asbestos Contractors Association and gave much and very valuable advice and suggestions in regard to our new agreement, which is being negotiated at this time.

At a special meeting our President gave a very illuminating and interesting talk on the present-day controversy in the labor movement.

The only drawback to his visit was that it was too short and trusting that his next will be longer and in the near future, will close with Local 16 extending its appreciation for the benefits derived from his visit.

Dear Sir and Brother:

A special meeting of Local No. 22 was called for Saturday, May 1, for the purpose of honoring our International President, Brother Mullaney, and the delegates to our Southwest Conference meeting, as a Conference Meeting had been called for that date, but due to the passing of Brother Essary's son, Delmore, on Friday, April 30, our Conference Meeting was postponed until June 19.

Our local meeting was well attended, with visitors from Dallas, Oklahoma City, Tulsa and San Antonio.

Brother Mullaney gave us one of those instructive heart to heart talks and answered several questions regarding Trade Laws and Practices, which was thoroughly enjoyed and we trust Brother Mullaney will visit us again in the very near future.

We read in the Journal where our Secretary-Treasurer had visited several Locals and we wish to extend him a cordial invitation to visit Local 22 at his earliest convenience.

The Standard Oil Company job at Toledo, Ohio, with the Kellogg Company having the insulation contract was brought to the attention of the delegates. A local unionizing campaign with Vice-President Dalton participating unionized the job 100%. A-1 workmanship now demanded. The delegates were enlightened by President Mullaney as to the former close business connection which existed between the Converse Company of Kansas City and the company now on this job.

Vice-President George Hennig outlined the conditions existing in the Pittsburgh territory.

Secretary-Treasurer Al Smith's resignation was acted upon and regretfully accepted. Vernon Adkins, of Charleston, West Virginia, was elected as his successor to the office.

The Financial Secretary's report showed $131.55 on deposit.

In closing the Conference meeting President Mullaney outlined many interesting phases of trade conditions pertaining to our craft and the coming International Convention in Chicago.

The question of the date and city for the next Conference meeting was left to the discretion of Chairman Dalton.

Meeting adjourned 5 p. m.

Respectfully submitted,

We Bet It Won't

It remains to be seen whether the present leaders of the C. I. O. will be able to retain command of their own movement. It also remains to be seen whether the "industrial unionism" sponsored by the C. I. O. will in the end prove to have greater staying qualities than the "craft unionism" of the A. F. of L. At the moment the trend seems to run strongly in favor of the C. I. O. But before concluding that the present trend is permanent it would be well to remember that once before, in the years from 1870 to 1890, American labor experimented with "industrial unionism" and that the experiment then ended in failure. It ended in failure because this type of unionism did not give sufficient autonomy to the various trade crafts, because internal dissensions arose in consequence of this, and because the inclusion of great numbers of unskilled workers in trade union ranks weakened the movement financially. It was this experience which led the shrewdest leader that American labor has had thus far, Samuel Gompers, to insist that the future lay with the craft unions. Time itself must show whether conditions have changed so fundamentally as to prove Mr. Gompers a prophet without honor.

[Excerpt from article in New York Times. Caption is ours.—Ed.]

A. F. of L. Gains 622,664 Members

The pronounced success achieved by the organizational activities of the American Federation of Labor is strikingly revealed by the official membership report made public here by Secretary-Treasurer Frank Morrison.

Since last August, according to Mr. Morrison, over 600,000 working men and women throughout the United States and Canada, hitherto outside the organized labor movement, have realized the advantages of united industrial action to improve their economic and social conditions and have taken out membership cards in over one hundred national and international unions and hundreds of directly affiliated local trade and labor unions which constitute the American Federation of Labor, raising the total membership in this constructive organization to more than three million, the average monthly increase in membership being 62,266.

Evidently impressed with the idea that facts speak for themselves, Mr. Morrison made no comment on his concise report, the text of which follows:

"The paid upon and reported membership of the 103 National and International Unions and Local Unions directly affiliated with the American Federation of Labor as of June 30, 1937, is 3,062,719. This does not include the membership of the ten National and International Unions suspended September 5, 1936.

"This is a gain of 622,664 members for the ten months over the average membership of the fiscal year ending August 31, 1936."

An Unusual "First Lady"

Finland, the only country that has paid regularly the annual debt instalment to the United States incurred by loans during the World War, has a very unique "First Lady." Mrs. Kaisa Kallio prefers a farmhouse to a palace!

The recently-elected president of Finland, Kyosti Kallio, transferred his better half from her beloved farm home to his newly acquired palace at Helsingfors, where she exchanged her calico dresses for the finest silks —reluctantly. As she swishes around the mansion with its velvet stairways, gilt and plush furnishings with the dignity that befits such surroundings, she thinks wistfully of the farm she loves so dearly.

Although the new president has long been successful politically, and held responsible positions, including that of prime minister, his wife remained on the farm and handled her work quite profitably. But when Mr.

Published by AsbestosClaims.Law
asbestosclaims.law/library/21432/28

Kallio was elected president of Finland, it became her duty to join her husband in the presidential palace at Helsingfors and fulfill the functions of First Lady.

Mrs. Kallio is a friendly, pleasant-faced, shy little lady, with a far-away look of sadness in her eyes, she surveys her palatial home with such expressions as: "This is not my home, really. I feel quite a stranger here. It seems so strange to be transplanted all at once to a new soil, and begin a new life after all these years."

When the news first came that her husband has been elected to the office of president she announced that she would not live in the palace, but would remain on the farm. Later she changed her mind.

She is reported as being an extremely unassuming woman although considered one of the most talented peasant women in Finland. With only an elementary school education, she has become quite a modern farmerette and has kept social activities completely out of her life. But now her innate capacity for adjustment is well illustrated by the ease with which she organizes the many and arduous activities connected with the household of the presidential residence.

President Kallio's wife is evidently an unusual woman.

"Chowderhead"

Some of the activities of a strike-breaker were recently recounted by the notorious Sam Cohen, known to police as "Chowderhead" and described by himself as a "gorilla," in his testimony before the National Labor Relations Board in New York City relative to his services for the Borden Farm Products company, which was charged by Local 680 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters with discharging members of the Union last year while the milk concern was trying to force the organization of a Company Union in its plant at Elizabeth, N. J.

The Union called a strike in May, 1936, and is now seeking to have the Labor board issue an order requiring the company to reinstate the dismissed men.

The attorney for the Labor board claimed that Cohen was in charge of about 200 strong-arm men who went to Elizabeth in automobiles to break up picket lines and otherwise foment trouble.

In describing his functions in the strike Cohen said he was hired by the company as a "guard," for which he was paid $9 a day, and sometimes got more. He stood at the door of the plant and kept out persons he did not think belonged in the building and saw that there was no loitering. Those he admitted stayed in a room upstairs, "waiting."

One day he supervised the line-up of the "waiting" men while they were paid off at the rate of $2 a day for "waiting time." He said he examined their cards to see that nobody was in the pay line "that didn't belong there," but insisted he was not in charge of the group.

"What I do is guard work," he boasted. "Protect life and property and keep people from being hounded, and like that. If I didn't do it the cops would, and I figured I might as well get the money as leave the cops do it."

An Inhuman Boycott

The legislature of Massachusetts recently passed a measure designed to punish those who deny employment to workers beyond the age of forty-five, either by dismissal or refusal to hire them on that account. Punishment consists in the publication of the names of offending employers.

While such legislation is of doubtful constitutionality, the action of the Bay State legislature serves a most useful purpose. It draws attention in a forceful manner to one of the gravest abuses of our social system—the penalization of American citizens, men and women, by denying them their God-given right to earn their living, because they are "too old" at forty-five and even at thirty-five.
