Some Facts About YOUR COVER PICTURE

THE illustration of the Washington Monument on the front cover of this issue, was selected for the purpose of bringing to the minds of all Americans, at this time, the first President of the United States, George Washington.

Washington was the unanimous choice of the electoral college for the Presidency when the Constitution first went into effect. On his way to New York, where the Congress was in session, he was the recipient of much attention. At Trenton an arch was thrown over a bridge over which he must pass. It was adorned with laurel leaves and flowers from the conservatories. A group of little girls carrying baskets of flowers strewed the way in front of him, singing an ode composed for the occasion. On April 30, 1789, he appeared on the street gallery of the old city hall of New York. He took the oath of office in the presence of an immense concourse of people and delivered an impressive address to the members of the two Houses of Congress.

So it is today, only the place is Washington, D. C., and the man is Harry S. Truman. Hundreds of thousands of Americans have made plans to be on hand for the inauguration.

The elaborate rostrum, in front of the Capitol Building, where the President will take his oath of office is nearly completed and grandstands are being erected from which Americans will view one of the most outstanding parades tendered any President. Banners, floats and flag draped buildings are almost completed for the gala demonstration that will honor the peoples choice for President.

Americans should feel proud for the part they have had in keeping the traditions, customs and practices of this great Democracy from 1789 to 1949.

Report of the GENERAL PRESIDENT

JOSEPH A. MULLANEY
General President

WASHINGTON, D. C.,
January 4, 1949.

To the Officers and Membership, Affiliated Locals.

GREETINGS:

Next came New York City and a special meeting of the Local No. 12 membership enrolled in Labor's League for Political Education, of which your President is a national committeeman. This meeting was held in Beethoven Hall, where by unanimous vote the candidates named by the L. L. P. E. were endorsed.

Then back to Washington and work at the General Office.

Cincinnati came next, where Vice President Mulligan and your President represented our craft at the Building and Construction Trades Department Convention.

Next came the convention of the American Federation of Labor, in the same city, at which Secretary Sickles and your President represented the Asbestos Workers.

During our stay in Cincinnati your Secretary and President attended the Central States Conference of Asbestos Workers, also held a conference with the Louisville employers and a committee from Local No. 51.

This conference was followed by a trip to Louisville a week later, where the employers and your Secretary and President were dinner guests of Local No. 51. Then followed a special meeting of Local No. 51, which among other things unanimously voted to take in 18 new members.

Then back to Cincinnati until the adjournment of the convention. Your President has nothing to add to the highly publicized press accounts of both conventions outside of mentioning the personal pledges made by Vice President Barkley, Secretary of Labor Tobin, and Senator-elect Humphrey—to work for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law.

The next stop was Albany, where all American Federation of Labor Local Unions in the Empire State held their annual conference and agreed upon the program to be presented to the incoming State Legislature.

Philadelphia was the next stop, and attendance at the Middle Atlantic States Conference of Asbestos Workers.

The next jump was to Syracuse and the quarterly session of the New York State Conference of Asbestos Workers.

The next trip was to Buffalo with Secretary Sickles and attendance at a dinner at the Buffalo Hotel, where your President, Secretary, and the entire membership of Local No. 4, as well as all Travelers working in the territory, were the guests of the Buffalo employers. Mr. Chaffee was the toastmaster of the evening. Later came a conference between the employers, Business Agent Forton and your President and Secretary, at which time the problem of furnishing labor for work now under construction and pending contracts was fully discussed and decisions arrived at.

Springfield, Mass., came next and the quarterly session of the New England States Conference of Asbestos Workers.

The minutes of the Conference meetings referred to above can be found printed elsewhere in this Journal issue.

The outstanding event of the year 1948 was the successful entrance of Organized Labor upon the field of politics, where, judging by results, it earned itself a permanent place in the political sun. If the A. F. of L., the C. I. O., the Railroad Brotherhoods, the United Mine Workers and other independent unions can unite as a non-partisan political party and operate under the slogan "Reward your friends and defeat your enemies," Organized Labor should hold the balance of political power in our country well within the next decade.

Work holds up. Idle Asbestos Workers can pick their spots throughout the country. The Southwest now looms as the future "promised land."

Happy New Year to all.

Fraternally,

Joseph A. Mullaney

President.

...EDITORIAL...

Excess Profits Threaten Economic Stability

THE American Federation of Labor placed the blame for the inflation which threatens the nation's economy upon the excessively high profits earned by American industry.

Speaking for AFL President William Green, Nelson H. Cruikshank, the AFL's director of social insurance activities, told a Senate-House subcommittee investigating profits that high prices, which have fattened corporation coffers, have resulted in a decline of mass purchasing power which is a threat to the stability of our economy.

Unless action is taken to stem inflation and to reduce prices wherever possible, Mr. Cruikshank warned that labor cannot refrain from seeking maximum wage increases to ease the burden of the nation's wage earners.

He advanced the AFL Executive Council's proposal that a national conference of labor, business and farm leaders be called to map a voluntary inflation-control program to coordinate the activities of all groups.

Basic to any program, Cruikshank declared, are sound monetary and tax policies of the federal government. He asserted that the tax cut approved by the 80th Congress gave the bulk of the savings to tax payers in income groups over $3,000, while the low income groups were left with a heavy tax burden.

The AFL spokesman declared that prices have been raised more than enough to cover any added cost due to wage increases with the result that business profits have reached new peaks. He said:

"With each postwar year, a smaller and smaller portion of the income created by American industry has gone to workers and a larger and larger part to profits. For example, wage and salaried workers in 1939 received 65 per cent of the income created by industry; in the first postwar year, 1946, the share paid to workers had dropped to 63 per cent, and declined further to 61.3 per cent in 1947 and to 60.8 per cent in the first half of 1948. Meanwhile the share going to profits of both corporate and unincorporated business increased steadily in each postwar year. The share going to profits was 29 per cent in 1939 and 37 per cent in 1948 (first half).

"It is common knowledge that profits which reached an all-time peak in 1947 are exceeding that peak in 1948.

"The results of the high price policies followed by so many businesses in the postwar period are now being seriously felt in various sectors of the economy. Workers' average real wages have been declining during the postwar period.

"From May, 1945 (V-E Month) to August, 1945 (V-J Month) the decline in buying power of the weekly pay envelope of the average factory worker was 10 per cent. From August, 1945, to October, 1948 (latest figure) the average factory worker's buying power has declined another 2½ per cent. But the factory worker has fared better than the average consumer, because unions have advanced his pay. Figures from the President's Midyear Economic Report show that the per capita disposal income of the American people in the first half of 1948 was 10 per cent below 1945 and 7 per cent below 1946. This decline has been due entirely to the price rise, since average money wages and the per capita money income of the American people have advanced steadily in the postwar period."

Mr. Cruikshank declared that the share of products and services purchased by consumers has been declining. In 1939 consumers bought 75 per cent of the national product, while in the first nine months of 1948 they were able to purchase only 69.8 per cent. At the same time business expenditures and private exports are declining, he said, adding:

"The market is being supported at present by Government purchases for the European Recovery Program and the military program. But we cannot go on indefinitely expanding these programs to take up the slack in consumer purchasing power. We are told by competent business observers that 'very small declines in civilian demands will offset very large increases in defense demand.'

"In 1949 consumer buying must increase substantially if we are to maintain our economy at levels of maximum employment and production. To achieve this, a stable dollar is essential. The postwar price rise in living costs must be stopped."

American Labor In 1949

A New Year's Day Statement by Secretary of Labor

THE year 1949 finds the American wage earner better off than any other wage earner in the world, and assured that his freedom will be protected and his economic advantages improved.

Our standard of living has been mounting steadily for a century. Today an ordinary worker's hourly wage buys four times what his great-grandfather's hourly wage bought in 1847.

His weekly wages represent a three-fold gain in purchasing power over 100 years ago, for a work-week that has shrunk by one-third.

Standard of Living

The quantity and quality of goods and services available to him beyond the basic requirements of living have contributed substantially to his well-being and enjoyment of life. They are the measure of the high standard of living which he enjoys.

There have been marked improvements also in his health and life expectancy, education, recreation and travel, civil and political rights.

The growth of the labor movement has given him a greater participation in group economic and political decisions, and a more direct voice in his Government.

Two factors have contributed to the constant improvement of the purchasing power of his hourly and weekly wages: Increased productivity and greater bargaining power.

Increases in real wages, or purchasing power, have more nearly approximated increases in productivity in recent years when union strength was on the upswing and protection of the right of collective bargaining became a Government policy.

Membership Growth

Maurice J. Tobin

Productivity is again on the upswing as technological developments made during the war are adapted to peacetime production.

This will provide for further improvements in our standard of living if the workers are given their just share of the productivity increases.

The future welfare of labor and the nation depends on a free, democratic union movement that can bargain wisely and well with free management for a just balance between productivity, wages and prices.

Governmental Programs

Government has its part to do, to improve the health and insurance facilities available to all the people, especially the unfortunate and weak, and to keep the economy strong.

Those programs add up to a policy of progress and evolution attained through a democratic Government and a democratic free people.

We are going forward, the way we always have, under a system of justice and freedom to all our citizens.

Facts About Infantile Paralysis

THE 1948 infantile paralysis epidemic marks the sixth consecutive year of unusually high incidence of the disease in the United States. As of October 9, with 20,387 cases reported, the toll has already well exceeded the normal average for any entire year's period. Only five times in the history of the disease in this country has the total number of cases gone above this figure for any one year.

In 1948 infantile paralysis struck again with its usual ruthless geographical impartiality. North Carolina, Texas and California received the brunt of the onslaught this year, whereas Ohio and Idaho were hardest hit in 1947. By early September, 1948, North Carolina, Texas and California reported respectively 23, 10 and 4 times as many cases as were recorded for the similar period in 1947.

Since its establishment January 3, 1938 up to December 31, 1947, the National Foundation had authorized more than $30,000,000 in grants and appropriations for research, education and medical care. This sum was exclusive of millions of dollars expended by National Foundation chapters in paying for services rendered infantile paralysis patients in their areas.

Since 1938 the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has authorized more than $5,000,000 for virus research alone.

Business Journal Admits Failure of T-H Law

By Arnold Beichman

New York Correspondent for AFL News Service

New York.—Solemn obsequies over the Taft-Hartley law have been intoned by Business Week, a conservative publication whose potency helped sire this moribund anti-labor law.

Titling its current editorial, "Why the Taft-Hartley Law Failed," this graveside sermon concedes that the law "went too far." Reversing the old Latin injunction that nothing except good should be spoken about the dead, Business Week, with a candor which would have been far more refreshing had it been visible before Election Day, declares that "the Taft-Hartley Act conceivably could wreck the labor movement."

Four provisions are singled out by Business Week as potential destroyers of the free trade union movement:

"1. Picketing can be restrained by injunction.

"3. Strikers can be held ineligible to vote—while the strike replacements cast the only ballots.

"4. If the outcome of this is a 'no-union' vote, the government must certify and enforce it.

"Anytime there is a surplus labor pool from which an employer can hire at least token strike replacements, these four provisions, linked together, presumably can destroy a union.

"By going that far, the law defeated itself. It was more than a pendulum swing away from the Wagner Act. As a result, not only will the potentially destructive features of the law go, but also some of its constructive aspects will be lost in the reaction."

Although Business Week, whose pre-November 2 liturgies to the Taft-Hartley law lacked such mundane revelations as those cited above, is specific as to what provisions in the law are anti-union, it curiously omits any citation of what are the T-H law's "constructive aspects."

The editorial attaches the act's failure to labor's conviction that it "was an unjust and oppressive law. (Labor) was able to express its conviction politically."

Business Week argues that "as far as business was concerned, organized labor never made its case against the law," although the four provisions cited by the enormously influential business magazine as examples of the T-H law's going "too far," were precisely the bases of labor's indictment against the law.

One of the most significant aspects of the editorial is its implied warning to ultra-reactionary businessmen that a law in a democratic society will fail unless it has the consent of the people.

"Only the police state can enforce a law which is believed to be unjust by the people it affects," it declares.

But lest any trade unionist should feel that this penitential editorial harbingers long-lived repentance, Business Week lays down this injunction—that "going back to the original Wagner Act would be going too far."

Already you can hear the war-cries, the tom-toms beating, the tocsin warnings—the Wagner Act shall not pass. In that one sentence lies the new, post-election anti-union strategy being formulated for the 81st Congress.

20th Anniversary Dinner
Tendered to
JOHN W. HOFF

BOSTON, MASS.
November 29, 1948.

Editor, THE ASBESTOS WORKER,
Washington, D. C.

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:

Thursday, November 11, was a gala day for the Asbestos Workers, their families and friends because it was the occasion of the John W. Hoff Twentieth Anniversary Dinner held at the Hotel Bradford in the Main Ballroom and attended by six hundred persons. The Committee on Arrangements performed their tasks in a splendid fashion. The toastmaster was E. A. Johnson, Treasurer of Local No. 6 and Secretary-Treasurer of the Building and Construction Trades Council of the Metropolitan District.

The International Association was represented by Vice President Joseph W. Hunter of Local No. 14, Philadelphia, Pa. Also present was Vice President A. L. Hullinghorst of Local No. 53, New Orleans, La. Other head table guests were: R. E. Lindstrom, president of Local No. 6; John E. Goodwin, secretary-treasurer, Pipe Fitters Association Local No. 537, U. A.; Francis O'Toole, general agent, Building and Construction Trades Council of the Metropolitan District; John J. Del Monte, President of Massachusetts Federation of Labor; Rev. Thomas E. Shortell, S. J., professor of economics, Boston College; Alfred Ellis, Business Agent, Sheet Metal Workers Local No. 17; Charles S. Clougherty, Business Agent, Plumbers Local No. 12; Albert L. Sargent, President, Asbestos Contractors, New England Association; Charles Trout, President, Local No. 14, Philadelphia, Pa.; Emil Anderson, veteran member of Local No. 6; Lance T. Gaspic, Business Agent of Local No. 33, Connecticut; James J. Dunn, Business Agent of Local No. 43, Springfield, Mass; John G. Johnson, Business Agent of Local No. 31, Providence, R. I. and John L. McDonald, Home Insulators Local No. 6-B.

Many telegrams were received regretting inability to attend, among which was a wire from President Mullaney, Vice President Mulligan and Secretary-Treasurer C. W. Sickles, expressing regrets that they could not be with us at this anniversary dinner due to the fact that they were in Cincinnati, Ohio, attending conventions of the Building and Construction Trades Department and the American Federation of Labor.

After a short speaking program, presentation was made of gifts representing a substantial check accompanied by the well wishes of the assembled gathering and a handsome television set.

Mrs. John W. Hoff, wife of the guest of honor, was presented with a beautiful bouquet with appropriate recognition of the help that she has been to John in his twenty years of service to the Local.

Dancing followed the festivities participated in by all.

From expressions of those present, it was voted that the affair was a success and a splendid tribute to the value and character of the guest of honor. Brother Hoff was congratulated from all sides.

All of our employers were represented beside affiliated Unions of the Building and Construction Trades Council.

The Committee on Arrangements for the Testimonial Dinner were Brothers R. E. Lindstrom, chairman; Gilbert Johnson, secretary; E. A. Johnson, treasurer; John Bertoldo, Bernard Cross, Arthur Coughlin, Louis Dahlberg, Larry Egan, Theodore Erickson, Louis Goetz, Jr., John E. Goodwin, John Warren Hoff, Thomas Houlcroft, Joseph Robertson, Frank Skinner, John Van Baars, and William B. Wilkes.

Fraternally yours,
R. E. LINDSTROM, Chairman,
GILBERT JOHNSON, Secretary.

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:

Well, it's the beginning of a new year, so I thought I'd better drop you a line to let you know that things are still going strong. We have had an enjoyable year of employment, and from all indications 1949 will top 1948 as we have plenty of powerhouse work that will be ready for our craft within the next four months.

Just about all of our work is overtime. At the present time we have about two hundred men working, that is: our membership, travelers and permit men from other crafts, so you see our "chain store" Local is starting after eleven years to pay dividends.

We also have a full-time Business Agent now. Things are starting to shape up much better now with the building trades and their employers during the last six months seeming to have had a change of heart and they are cooperating with each other more than ever before.

We have a good territory here, but it's just like everything else, you have to go out and make it if you want to enjoy the benefits.

Would like to have President Mullaney and yourself drop in for a visit and meet our employers and membership at the earliest opportunity. This is just a suggestion as I know your time is pretty well taken up.

Well, I'll close for this time, wishing all a prosperous New Year.

Fraternally,
RICHARD GLASS,
Business Agent, Local No. 47.

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:

ternational President, Joseph A. Mullaney, and Secretary-Treasurer, C. W. Sickles. Also present at the luncheon were Mr. B. J. Gerst, Jr., President of Master Insulators Association, Mr. A. D. Adams, Secretary of Master Insulators Association, Mr. L. E. Bader and Mr. J. H. Layman of the Armstrong Cork Company, and Mr. C. W. Hamilton, President General Insulation and Roofing Company.

After the luncheon, President Mullaney and Secretary Sickles made brief talks to members of Local No. 51 on several problems that have been in dispute for sometime between Local No. 51 members and their employers.

The officers and members of Local No. 51 appreciate the visit from our International Officers and most cordially welcome them to a return visit at their earliest opportunity.

At this time I would also like to thank Vice-President James J. Dalton for his splendid cooperation and to remind him that he is most welcome in Local No. 51 territory anytime in the future.

Yours fraternally,
A. F. MADDUX,
Business Representative.

Enough Said

All labor leaders are crooked! All bankers are respectable! If you don't believe it, just read Westbrook Pegler's anti-labor, anti-Roosevelt, and anti-anything-progressive-or-liberal column, Fair Enough.

On August 18, here's what Peg had to say:

"The union movement has completely dishonored itself. It doesn't even produce respectable personalities in the commanding jobs. The proportion of underworld criminals and the number of helpless citizens whom they bossed and the amounts which they stole have been a historic shame.

"Unionism will stagger along, but it will fall down and die because it is fundamentally bad and hostile to freedom and decency."

Having a youthful and impressionable mind, we considered tearing up our working card and taking a job in a bank so that we could regain our respectability when we ran across Fred Othman's column of August 24 in which he reviewed Lester Pratt's book "Bank Frauds." Othman's column read:

"The trouble is there have been too many slick-fingered babies in the banking business. . . . In the 15 years ending 1945, American bonding companies have had to put up $68,500,000 to cover their pilfering. Since many of the bonds weren't big enough, the best guess is that thieving bank officials nicked their own firms in the same 15 years for $137,000,000."

DO YOU KNOW

That organized labor is chiefly responsible for our high standards of life.

That our 40-hour average week provides productive efficiency, plus more leisure than anywhere else?

That increased wages of working people have made possible the highest living standard in the world . . . not only for union men, but for all Americans? For a prosperous group of working people is the foundation for the prosperity of—everybody!

What brought about these changes?

Mainly they were brought about by unions working together with fair employers under the American system of private enterprise, through the practice of collective bargaining. Through collective bargaining over the years, the American Federation of Labor has gained many objectives that seemed Utopian and visionary back in the 1880's.

December 4, 1948.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Middle Atlantic States Conference of Asbestos Workers was held on the above date and was called to order by Chairman James A. Roche at 12.15 p. m. with the following delegates in attendance: Local No. 2, Pittsburgh, Pa., Business Agent Fred E. Rust; Local No. 11, Baltimore, Md., Financial Secretary S. A. Mohsberg, Jr.; Local No. 14, Philadelphia, Pa., President Charles H. Trout and Business Agent Joseph W. Hunter; Local No. 24, Washington, D. C., Business Agent Norman L. Hoyle; Local No. 32, Essex and Hudson Counties, N. J., Business Agent James A. Roche; Local No. 42, Wilmington, Del., President Harry E. Mahan and Business Agent Arvid O. Johnson; Local No. 71, Allentown, Pa., under International supervision, International Vice President Joseph W. Hunter; Local No. 89, Trenton, N. J., Business Agent Stephen J. Kopp.

Brother Terence McConnell, of Local No. 32, attended as a visitor.

International President Joseph A. Mullaney was also in attendance.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Current bills as presented were ordered paid.

Communications were read and the secretary instructed to make appropriate reply.

The secretary reported receiving the annual Conference assessment from Local No. 24, Washington, D. C., and was also instructed to submit the annual bill for Conference assessment to all affiliated Locals.

Reports of delegates:

Delegate Rust, of Local No. 2, reported trade conditions very good with plenty of work at hand and a good deal more coming along. Augmenting Local membership are 60 Travelers and also 60 "emergency Asbestos Workers." He also reported having jurisdictional trouble on the Jones and Laughlin steel job on the South Side, but with the help of the General Office expects to make a satisfactory arbitration in this matter.

He further reported that the Local is negotiating for a new trade agreement calling for a $2.50 per hour wage rate and also a $35 per week board rate.

Delegate Mohsberg, of Local No. 11, reported conditions there are very good. Approximately 100 "emergency Asbestos Workers" are being used. There is a goodly amount of industrial work at hand but the majority of work is of the marine variety, with the Sparrows Point Shipyard getting the largest quota. This, together with the Bethlehem Steel job and also the Penwood Powerhouse job coming along, tends to make the future look good for three or four years.

Delegate Hunter, of Local No. 14, reported very busy with 50 "emergency Absestos Workers" being used at the present time. With the oil industry getting near the ready stage, an unlimited number of men will be needed. The Gulf Oil job is now in the midst of an expansion program amounting to $40,000,000, and the Public Utilities are soon scheduled to begin an expansion program amounting to $80,000,000. With other industrial work also coming along, the outlook for the next two years is very good and plenty of additional manpower will be required.

Delegate Hoyle, of Local No. 24, reported still fairly busy with 40 "emergency Asbestos Workers" employed. Listed among jobs coming along are two operations at Front Royal, one at Alexandria, Va., a new Federal heating plant, two hospitals, some additional Government buildings, which together with some commercial work makes the future look promising.

He also reported that, effective November 1, 1948, a new wage scale of $2.50 per hour and also a $4.50 per day board rate, for a period of one year, became operative.

He furthered his report by giving the delegates an account of the triumphant arrival of President Harry S. Truman back to Washington, D. C., following his victory in the recent election, and also the great part that Labor played in extending its felicitations to him. The election of President Truman will long be remembered as a victory for Organized Labor, who voted under the slogan of "Reward your friends and defeat your enemies."

Delegate Johnson, of Local No. 42, reported still busy with six "emergency Asbestos Workers" being used. The duPont Laboratory job will be ready in approximately one month and the Veterans Hospital job will come along in two months. These jobs, together with many other projects, should spell much future work.

Delegate Roche, of Local No. 32, reported conditions at present are about the same since last Conference meeting, with about 50 "emergency Asbestos Workers" and also 50 Travelers at work. The oil industry throughout the territory is expanding to a very great extent. The Esso job is amounting to $500,000 for insulation and will require as high as 80 men. The Tidewater job will amount to $150,000 on insulation. The Shell Refinery Company is planning a $150,000,000 expansion program over a five-year period. This program will certainly enhance the future prospects for employment.

He also, on behalf of the Conference, extended congratulations to President Mullaney and Secretary Sickles, editor of our own ASBESTOS WORKER, for the fine and timely covers used on the last two issues. This certainly reminded Labor of the vital issue then near at hand and the obligation which each and every one nobly fulfilled, as the elections proved.

International Vice President Joseph W. Hunter, reporting on craft conditions in Allentown, Pa., for Local No. 71, stated that all men are at work within the territory and with more work coming along the future prospects look good.

Delegate Kopp, of Local No. 89, reported conditions still moving along at a fairly brisk pace. Several of the larger industrial plants, including the John A. Roebling Co., the Crescent Wire Co., and the Sloane-Blabon Co., are currently engaged in expanding and modernizing their plants. This, together with some housing jobs coming along, makes future prospects good.

During the above reports, President Mullaney gave timely and enlightening counsel whenever needed. He also gave an interesting discourse on problems confronting our own industry, and spoke briefly on the results of the recent election and advised that it now looks as though Labor is in politics to stay.

At this time President Mullaney took the chair for the nomination and election of officers, whom he later inducted. Brothers Roche, Hoyle and Kopp were elected unanimously as president, vice president, and secretary-treasurer for the ensuing year.

The secretary then submitted his annual financial report, which was accepted as read.

The regular quarterly meeting of the New England States Conference was held on Saturday, December 18, 1948 at the Highland Hotel, Springfield, Mass.

Delegates present were John W. Hoff, of Local No. 6, Boston, Mass.; George Johnson, Ned Hackett and Walter Hoffman of Local No. 31, Providence, R. I.; Lance Gaspic and Charles Soelch of Local No. 33, Connecticut; James Dunn and Patrick O'Connor of Local No. 43, Springfield, Mass.

President Joseph A. Mullaney and Secretary-Treasurer C. W. Sickles were also in attendance.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and accepted.

Reports of delegates:

Delegates Gaspic and Soelch of Local No. 33 reported work plentiful and several "emergency Asbestos Workers" employed. Question on their mortuary fund was brought up and same was clarified by President Mullaney as per International Constitution and By-Laws. Delegates also reported that the Local turned down a motion to put the Business Agent on full time. The question arose as to whose territory Groton, Conn., was in, and on referring to the official map it was definitely Connecticut territory. They further reported they have 100 men in the Local at present and recently took 14 Improvers into the Local.

The status of a shop steward was taken up and a decision was rendered by President Mullaney on same.

Delegates Dunn and O'Connor of Local No. 43 reported that they are very busy and prospects for the future are excellent. They have several "emergency Asbestos Workers" employed. They further reported on several large operations, including large college expansion jobs. They also stated they will shortly negotiate after the first of the year on a new agreement, and then invited the delegates to attend their annual banquet which is to be held next month.

Delegates Johnson, Hackett and Hoffman of Local No. 31 reported conditions are very good and about 16 "emergency Asbestos Workers" employed. They also reported the re-election of Business Agent Johnson at a Local meeting the night before. The question arose of a Local No. 31 employer doing a job in another Local's territory and not living up the specifications that the job called for. The controversy in question has been settled by the employer having a man doing the job as per the original specifications.

Delegate Hoff of Local No. 6 reported an abundance of work in his territory, with about 55 "emergency Asbestos Workers" employed.

He further reported on several meetings held with Local No. 6 employers in an effort to establish an over-all insurance fund which will include members and their families on medical and surgical treatment coverage. The matter is going to arbitration for a settlement and a decision will be made in the next week or two.

President Mullaney and Secretary-Treasurer Sickles advised the delegates on future working agreements, along with notifying the General Office as soon as one is consummated with the employers.

They both stated that all Locals throughout the country were very busy and that prospects for the future look very good.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN W. HOFF,
Secretary.
