Some Facts About YOUR COVER PICTURE

U. S. Capitol

THE Capitol has a place among the beautiful buildings of the world. It is given added grandeur and impressiveness by its situation on a height overlooking the city, the Potomac lowlands and the distant ranges of encircling hills. It is of magnificent proportions.

The central building is of sandstone; the extensions are of marble. The entire length is 751 ft., width 350 ft., area over 3½ acres. The cornerstone of the main building was laid by President Washington, Sept. 18, 1793; the building was finished in 1827. The Dome, springing from a range of fluted Corinthian columns above the central buildings, and terminating in a lantern, is surmounted by the statue of Armed Liberty, towering 307½ ft.

On the east front are three grand porticoes with Corinthian columns, with a portico of similar columns on the end and west front of each extension, and a gallery on the west front of the main building. In the arch of the House Portico is a sculptured group of the Goddess of Peace with figures representing Hunting, Agriculture, Manufactures, and Navigation. The Rotunda Portico has a shield inscribed July 4, 1776; there are figures of Hope and Justice; the scroll of the Constitution bears the date of adoption, Sept. 17, 1787 There are in the portico two colossal groups, the Discovery of America (Columbus and Indian girl), and the Settlement of America (a pioneer in conflict with a savage), and marble figures of War and Peace. Above the door is a composition of Peace and Fame placing a wreath upon the brow of Washington. The marble group in the arch of the Senate Portico typifies American development and the decadence of the Indian Race; in the center stands America bestowing honor upon General Washington; on the right are Commerce, Education, Mechanics and Agriculture; on the left Pioneer, Hunter Indian and Indian Mother. Above the Senate entrance are marble figures of Justice and History.

Report of the GENERAL PRESIDENT

JOSEPH A. MULLANEY
General President

WASHINGTON, D. C.,
July 2, 1951.

To the Officers and Membership, Affiliated Locals.

GREETINGS:

The activities of your President during the past quarter away from the General Office began on Sunday, April 1, which date found him on train returning from the Southeast States Conference held in Atlanta.

The next trip with Secretary Sickles was to Chicago where after a conference with Vice President Mulligan, a meeting of the Presidents of Building Trades crafts was held and certain decisions reached.

Next with Secretary Sickles to Columbus and the session of the Central States Conference. Next came Newark, a conference with Business Agent Roche followed by a meeting of Local No. 32.

Next with Secretary Sickles came Springfield and the session of New England States Conference. Then came Buffalo and the session of the New York State Conference of Asbestos Workers. Next in the same city came the convention of the New York State Federation of Labor that lasted four days. Your President attended this convention as a delegate from his home Local for the 43rd year. At this convention he was again elected Vice President for the 39th year. He also was selected as the chairman of the Resolutions Committee, in which capacity he has served 33 years.

Following this convention, your President, Business Agent Forton and President Hawley of Local No. 4 were the dinner guests of the Buffalo Asbestos Contractors. This dinner was followed by a three-hour discussion on craft issues calculated to have cemented closer harmonious relations between the shops and the Local.

A number of bills have been proposed in Congress to modify legislation such as the Fair Labor Standards Act and the Walsh-Healy Public Contracts Act to lengthen the work week to 44 or 48 hours before overtime is paid. (These laws now provide for payment of overtime after 40 hours.) Mobilization Director Wilson had been asked to testify on these bills and requested the advice of the Management-Labor Policy Committee.

At its meeting on June 14, the Management-Labor Policy Committee unanimously opposed any change in present legislation and recommended to Mr. Wilson that he urge the maintenance of existing legislation, existing policies, and existing collective bargaining contracts in regard to overtime pay.

Your President rounded out his last quarter's activities on Saturday, June 30, on which date he supervised the elections of his home Local No. 12, a custom of many years. These Local No. 12 elections use the "Australian Ballot." Individual, portable voting desks are used. The election committee is composed of five members. Two examine the individual ballots and three do the tallying of the vote. The polls are open from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. The final counting of ballots consumes approximately three and a half hours.

The thoughts of our membership in general today are centered on the "Welfare Fund." At this writing 16 of our Locals are enjoying it. My home Local No. 12 enjoys two funds, the first of which is the Welfare Fund, which treasury today amounts to $250,000 and the second, the Paid Holiday and Unemployment Fund, which today amounts to $50,000 and in future will average $80,000 a year. Brother George Rider, the president of Local No. 12, is today the paid administrator of these funds with offices at the Local headquarters.

Brother E. A. Johnson of Local No. 6 is administrator of his home Local fund in addition to the fund of Local No. 31.

The majority of our employers throughout the country favor it as they fully realize that a contented worker turns out the best day's average. Your President is of the opinion that the year 1956 will find our entire membership protected under the Welfare Plan.

Employment holds good.

Fraternally,

Joseph A. Mullaney

President.

Is This 'Economy'?

How honest are the "economy" boys in Congress when they plead they want the Government to quit spending "so much"?

Among them are such stalwart sons of slashing the budget as Republican Reps. Daniel Reed (N. Y.), James Van Zandt (Pa.), Sid Simpson (Ill.) and Thomas Werdel (Calif.).

They are "Yes, but" Congressmen. They say, "Yes, let's cut spending, but not in my district."

On June 13 the House considered the Army civil functions appropriations bill. This deals with such things as flood control, dams and rivers and harbors. It's one of the biggest pork barrel measures on Capitol Hill.

What did Reed do? He tried to wangle an extra $34,500 for flood control work in his district.

What did Van Zandt do? He tried to wangle an extra $6,475,000 for flood control work in his district.

What did Simpson do? He tried to wangle an extra $2,976,000 for flood control work in his district.

What did Werdel do? He tried to wangle an extra $15,000 for a study of water distribution in his district.

The House defeated these attempts by leaders of the "economy" bloc to get an extra $10 million for their districts.

League Vows '52 Political Drive

By Joseph D. Keenan, Director

A FULL-SCALE political counter attack in 1952 was vowed by the L.L.P.E. Administrative Committee at its May meeting.

Local and State Leagues are urged to get their plans in motion starting immediately. The members of the National League Staff will do everything possible to attend every State Convention in order to help get the ball rolling.

A lot of union members and officers were disappointed by the 1950 election results. Some are worried that we won't get the crumbs that are ordinarily thrown to us by reactionary Congresses. Some are ready to withdraw from the political field. But anyone knows you can't win a fight unless you are in it.

Back in 1924 the AFL was concerned about the deplorable conditions. We sponsored Robert LaFollette for the presidency. We didn't win a great victory. . . . LaFollette got only five million votes out of a total vote of 29 million. But it showed we had something, and labor's voice was respected after that.

We have learned enough from talking to seasoned politicians and from our own experience to know that as long as we are in the fight there is always a chance. The sure way to lose the fight . . . and never get anything but crumbs from the table . . . is to stay out of it.

We worked hard in the last election yet a lot of our friends did not win. But those are the breaks of the game.

You have seen grown men on world series baseball clubs, who thought they were sure winners, break down and cry when hey lost an important game. But as the old saying goes . . . woe betide the team that meets them the following day.

Sometimes we forget that the history of progress was generally a series of disappointments. Every step was fought for. Gains were won, lost and won back again.

That is as true of politics as anything else. There are no magic formulas for quick, easy PERMANENT victories. Let's remember that the very essence of politics in a democracy is competition. You can't win one election and close up shop. The other fellow can turn the tables on you next election.

Politicians take care of those groups who keep in there punching year after year. They have only contempt for those who bruise easy and give up. We can expect to take a lot more lickings along without victories in the years to come. The main thing is to keep trying. In time we will have a solid permanent effect on American politics.

A lot of people felt bad because we didn't win in Ohio last year. But actually it was the case of a seasoned political team of professionals against a bunch of rookies just starting out in their second or third year. Taft's victory cost more money than that of any other Senator in history. Every trick in the book was used. Even religious hatred against the Catholics was used in the last week after having spent months working the other side of the street currying favor with prominent Catholics. How do we overcome this defeat and go on to victories? By giving up? Or by staying with this program until we have good political know-how and the understanding of the people?

Giving up is just not part of the trade union tradition. All of us have had our experiences. I know how dear old John Fitzpatrick came back after the terrible defeat in the 1921 steel strike. I remember the great packing house strike of 1921. I remember how the unions were completely destroyed in these strikes. But did John Fitzpatrick or other great leaders give up? Of course not. And today in both steel and meat packing you will find the strongest of unions and the best of conditions. In both cases the unions came back to fight again, and they must still fight to keep good conditions.

The same is true in politics. You must take the bitter with the sweet. Just like the men on the ball team, defeats give you the spirit that brings you back again.

As far as our present political position is concerned, we are not as bad off as we might be. The enemies of labor won a smashing victory in 1946 and passed the Taft-Hartley Act. But by counter punching in 1948, we won back the lost ground and elected a Congress that passed the first progressive legislation in a decade . . . the 75 cent minimum wage, increased social security, public housing and the great union shop law for railroad workers. It is true that we again took a setback in 1950. But not nearly as bad as in 1946.

So now we have a stalemate in Congress. We can't get Taft-Hartley repealed or good laws passed. But our enemies are also afraid to attack us in the open. The best they can do is slash at us through the back door by cutting appropriations for such things as public housing and the Labor Department. They haven't got the courage or the votes to take us on in an open fight to wreck the various progressive laws on the books.

They are waiting to see who will break the stalemate in 1952. Will

New Board Given Building Pay Cases

The Wage Stabilization Board ordered Wage and Hour offices to discontinue the handling of cases in the building and construction industry.

The WSB issued instructions to the 68 field offices of the Wage and Hour Division of the U. S. Department of Labor, currently acting as field offices for WSB, to refer all cases on hand and future requests for rulings, interpretations, or action to the Wage Stabilization Board, Construction Industry Stabilization Commission, U. S. Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C.

WSB's Washington staff also turned over to the Construction Commission approximately 200 cases on hand in Washington.

The Construction Commission held its first organizational meeting and expects to be able to proceed shortly to the cases that can be processed within the existing regulations.

Four AFL members were appointed to the Construction Commission.

League Vows '52 Political Drive

labor votes tip the balance to a liberal majority in Congress, or will we take a walk?

If we hide out just because our feelings were hurt in 1950, you can bet your bottom dollar that the reactionaries will make a clean sweep. Gone will be any respect for labor on Capitol Hill.

If we try our best, win or lose, we will gain the respect of the professional politicians. They will give us our due and not run roughshod over the interests of the ordinary citizens of this country. They will know labor is in politics to stay.

Just remember that if you want to win bad enough you can. Remember how an underdog Navy football team came back from a 38 to 0 beating at the hands of Army in 1949 to smash the much-vaunted Army eleven in the surprise upset of the 1950 season.

We lost in the last election. We have all had a good cry. Now it is time to start training for the next contest, November 4, 1952.

Labor and Politics

"Should labor be in politics?" asks the Oregon Labor Press in an editorial

"Labor's battles are fought on the picket line, at the conference table, at the NLRB hearings—and in three other places. Those places are the city council chamber, the state legislature and the Congress of the United States.

"Today the legislative battle grounds are probably the most important of all. What good is the right to strike if lawmakers give the employer the power of injunction?

"What good are unemployment compensation and industrial accident laws if they're snarled up in restricting whereases and howevers? . . .

"We're in politics for keeps—because we have to be. . . . Yet there are still men and women who say we should avoid the political arena as we'd avoid a nest of cobras. . . . When they say labor should not endorse candidates for public office, they ask labor to give up a weapon as potent as the right to strike. . . ."

Correspondence

HOUSTON, TEX.,
June 8, 1951.

Editor, THE ASBESTOS WORKER,
Washington 1, D. C.

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:

—This is to inform you and the general membership that one of our Local No. 22 members, Brother (PFC) Grover W. Deshotel, Reg. No. 12345, who has been serving with the infantry in Korea, was killed in action on March 22, 1951.

I'm sure it would go without saying that this Brother's untimely death came as a shock to everyone who knew him, but of course, more especially those of us who were among his many close personal friends, and who were with him as recently as our last banquet in September, 1950.

This September, 1950, banquet was attended by Local No. 22 in honor of our International officers and Southwest States Conference delegates during the recent Conference meeting held in Houston in conjunction with the American Federation of Labor and the Building and Construction Trades Department annual conventions. Among the guests of Local No. 22 in addition to the Conference delegates were General President Mullaney, Secretary-Treasurer Sickles and Vice President A. L. Hullinghorst.

I am enclosing herewith a recent photo of Brother Deshotel taken in uniform and Local No. 22 would appreciate your publishing same in the next July Journal issue, space permitting.

On behalf of this organization, I wish to express our deepest sympathy to his wife and parents, as well as his other survivors.

Fraternally yours,
G. H. SHIPLEY,
Business Agent.

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:

I am enclosing this letter along with a photograph of the delegates at the Western States Conference of Asbestos Workers held in Spokane, Wash., on February 24 and 25, 1951. These delegates in their enthusiasm to make this "Western Conference" successful have traveled, in most instances, over 1,000 miles each way. Delegates in attendance representing members of Local No. 5, Los Angeles; Local No. 7, Seattle, Wash.; Local No. 16, San Francisco, Calif.; Local No. 20, Long Beach, Calif., Naval Shipyard; Local No. 23, Boise, Idaho; Local No. 36, Portland, Oreg.; Local No. 50, Tacoma, Wash.; Local No. 62, Bremerton, Wash., Naval Shipyard; Local No. 69, Salt Lake City, Utah; Local No. 82, Spokane, Wash.; and Local No. 97, Anchorage, Alaska, at this conference.

We would very much appreciate your efforts as editor of THE ASBESTOS WORKER in getting this published in same, at your convenience.

Sincerely and fraternally,
M. F. CHASE,
Secretary,
Western States Conference.

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:

I am forwarding you under separate cover a photograph of our recent Local 88 banquet. This banquet was attended by the Local 88 membership and their ladies. All Richmond building trades business agents were invited and the majority of them were present.

The only disappointment was the inability of General President Joseph A. Mullaney or General Secretary-Treasurer Sickles to accept our invitation and be with us on this occasion. Unfortunately we were not in a position to extend an invitation to them until the eleventh hour, which found them both committed to activities in the West on the night of the banquet and their regrets for inability to accept our invitation were conveyed to the membership at the time of the banquet.

Local 88 unanimously voiced their appreciation for the efforts of the committee and the good time enjoyed by all and will be looking forward to a return engagement and a bigger and better banquet in the near future, at which time we trust that we can extend reasonable advance notice and have the General Office represented.

Trusting space in our July Journal will permit reproduction of the photograph of this banquet, I am

Fraternally yours,
THOMAS A. BROOKS,
Business Agent.

The Big Lobby Money

Twenty-five lobbyists in Washington receive $25,000 a year or more. Nine of these are paid $50,000 or better. Another 115 lobbyists make $10,000 or more.

Who are they? Who pays them? Nearly all of them are high-powered lawyers and press agents hired by high-powered corporations. Their job is to get bills through Congress that will help Big Business and fight bills that will help the people. Take a look at a few:

Carl Byoir and Associates, a publicity firm, gets $108,000 a year from Levitt and Sons (construction company), Schenley (liquor) and the Shaeffer Pen Co.

Clem and Leone Whitaker, another press agent team, are paid $100,000 a year by the American Medical Association (AMA.)

Purcell Smith draws down $65,000 a year from the National Association of Electric Companies.

John Danaher, a former Senator from Connecticut, pulls down $51,800 from Revere Copper and Brass, Goodrich and Firestone rubber companies, and Fuller Brush Co.

The Association of American Railroads pays its head lobbyist, Carter Fort, $50,000. That's the same fee the National Association of Broadcasters pays Justin Miller.

Frank Porter receives $60,000 yearly from the American Petroleum Institute. The Washington law firm of Sullivan, Bernard and Shea is paid $89,332 by a group of air lines and finance companies.

And remember Gerald Morgan? He's the gentleman to whom the Republican National Committee paid $7,500 when he drafted the Taft-Hartley law while he was employed by the House Labor Committee. He's doing all right as a lobbyist, too. He and his law partner, Leonard Calhoun, made $38,615 last year lobbying for such groups as the California Manufacturers Association, National Tax Equality Association, Western Oil and Gas Association and the Manufacturers Association of Los Angeles

These figures—reported by Congressional Quarterly, an impartial editorial service—prove once again why workingmen and women must support their friends and defeat their enemies at election time.

The Basic Freedoms

By Ruth Taylor

Every time things go our way in the war, there are outcries against its cost in taxes, in restrictions, in the demands made upon us. We, as a nation and as individuals, take defeat with better grace than we take success. We have to see why before we will give up any of our special privileges.

When things are going well, we forget that the only things we cannot afford to give up are the basic freedoms.

Pope Pius XII phrased it thus: "'Render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's—and unto God the things which are God's.' One would like to add: Give unto man the things which are man's, give man his freedom and personality, his rights and religion."

Those are the basic ideals to which we as individuals, which we as a nation, must put first. Until they are assured to all peoples, they are not assured to any.

In order to keep these basic ideals we must give up much of our false notions that our comforts are our essentials. Without the basic freedoms there is nothing of any real importance. Ask those who have suffered. They know what is really important.

The basic things that are man's are his freedom—to speak, to think as an individual; his personality—his ability to make the best of himself; his rights—as a citizen and as a man; his religion—without which nothing else is important.

When we howl about taxes, when we complain about restrictions, we are forgetting what would be our lot were these basic freedoms to be torn from us.

The other night I walked down Sixth Avenue with an Englishman. He said: "Do you mind if I stop to look in the windows—it is so wonderful to see so many things for sale?" Remember that the next time you start to complain. And—when you hear the church bells ring, don't turn over and go back to sleep. Remember the countries where men cannot worship freely.

Stop complaining—if we want to be sure our rights remain our rights, we have to consider our responsibility to others. The basic freedoms for us are everyone's rights. When we fight for others, we fight for ourselves.

It's Work Or Jail In Russia

The "boss" in the Soviet Union can send a worker to jail for 20 days for refusing to go to another job. No court action is required and no court appeal is permitted.

This is but one example of Soviet labor's loss of freedom cited in the second of 2 articles on the Elements of Soviet Labor Law appearing in the April, 1951, Monthly Labor Review, publication of the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics. Both articles were written by Dr. Vladimir Gsovski, foreign law specialist for the Library of Congress. The first appeared in the March issue.

Even children of 12 years of age can be drafted for attendance at factory and trade schools which impose military-like discipline.

Since the suppression of private enterprise in the Soviet Union, the article points out, labor has lost all freedom on the job. The Standard Rules of Internal Labor Organization of 1941 stress that "every violation of labor discipline shall entail either a disciplinary penalty or prosecution in court."

A 1938 act, the article reveals, "was directed against tardiness, leaving work before the scheduled time, undue prolonging of lunch time, and loitering on the job. Those who committed such infractions were subject to warning or to transfer to lower grade jobs." An official interpretation of the act in 1939 states "a single tardiness exceeding 20 minutes should result in immediate dismissal." Managers, the article reports, are subject to dismissal and penal prosecution for any failures to inflict "prescribed penalties."

Leaving one's place of employment without permission, the article states, can incur imprisonment of from 2 to 4 months—in a defense industry, the penalty would be imprisonment up to 8 years.

A 1940 edict allows government department heads to transfer certain personnel, and failure to obey transfer orders is punishable as "unauthorized leaving of the job." In some industries, "bossses" are given the power "to impose penal confinement up to 20 days in their own discretion without a court action."

Wage Stabilization Board Clarification

Regulations Numbers 6 and 8 Clarified

The Wage Stabilization Board made public the following exchange of correspondence between Chairman George W. Taylor and Economic Stabilization Administrator Eric Johnston:

June 30, 1951.

Mr. Eric Johnston
Economic Stabilization
Administrator
Washington, D. C.

DEAR MR. JOHNSTON:

I am advised that as a result of the Joint Resolution extending the Defense Production Act until July 31, 1951, all of the regulations and other actions of the Wage Stabilization Board would continue in effect until that date, without further action by the Board or the Administrator, with two possible exceptions. These exceptions relate to General Wage Regulation No. 6, issued by the Board and approved by you on February 27, 1951, and General Wage Regulation No. 8, issued by you on March 8, 1951.

Action to extend General Wage Regulation No. 6 might be required, by one view, because of the following paragraph contained in the Statement of Considerations immediately preceding the regulation itself:

"The Wage Stabilization Board recognizes that there may be further changes in the cost of living. The present policy is adopted for the period until July 1, 1951. The policy set forth herein will be fully reviewed and re-examined before the end of this period."

Action to extend General Wage Regulation No. 8 is clearly required in view of Section 4 of the Regulatory Provision, which reads in part:

"Sec. 4. Time limitation on increases. No increase herein authorized shall be made effective subsequent to June 30, 1951 . . ."

"This Regulation, including Amendment 1, shall be effective as of March 1, 1951, and shall terminate June 30, 1951."

I should appreciate your opinion and advice in this situation.

Very truly yours,

GEORGE W. TAYLOR,
Chairman.

June 30, 1951.

Dr. George W. Taylor
Chairman, Wage Stabilization
Board
Washington 25, D. C.

DEAR MR. TAYLOR:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning the problems raised by the dates of July 1, 1951, and June 30, 1951, contained in General Wage Regulations 6 and 8, respectively.

It is the opinion of the Acting General Counsel of this Agency, in which I concur, that the date of July 1, 1951, which appears in the Statement of Considerations in issuing General Wage Regulation No. 6, does not constitute a time limitation on the Regulation itself, and that no action is required of your Board or of the Administrator to continue this Regulation in effect until July 31, 1951, along with all other actions of the Wage Stabilization Board, with the possible exception of General Wage Regulation No. 8, in view of the Joint Resolution extending the Defense Production Act until that date.

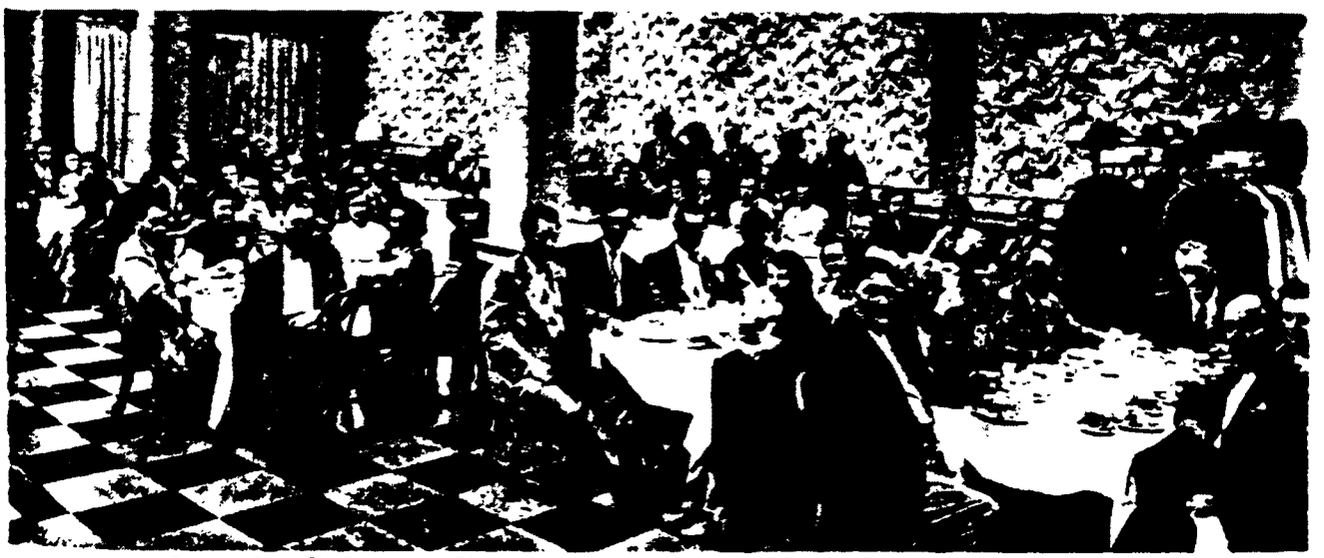

As to General Wage Regulation No. 8, I am aware that your Board is in the process of reviewing all of your existing policies, including those dealing with the relationship between cost of living increases and wage adjustments, with a view to making recommendations to the Administrator on a general formula for effective wage stabilization. Under these circumstances, it seems wise to maintain the status quo, including General Wage Regulation No. 8, so that the Board can expedite its overall review.

Therefore, I am hereby extending General Wage Regulation No. 8 until July 31, 1951.

I request the Board to develop the wage formula recommendations as far in advance of July 31 as possible. I feel there is no more urgent and important matter before the Board than the development of such a formula to bring about stability in the wage structure during this critical national emergency.

Sincerely yours,

ERIC JOHNSTON,
Administrator.

NEW ENGLAND STATES

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.
June 9, 1951.

The regular quarterly meeting of the New England States Conference was held in the Highland Hotel, Springfield, Mass., on Saturday, June 9, 1951.

The following delegates were present: John W. Hoff, Local No. 6, Boston, Mass.; Ernest Carlson, Local No. 31, Providence, R. I.; Anthony Gaspic, Lance Gaspic and Marlin Recor, Local No. 33, Connecticut, and Henry Koziol and Charles Hill of Local No. 43, Springfield, Mass.

In attendance as visitors were Brothers Ellis Carlson of Local No. 31 and Walter Sevelius and Albert Hill of Local No. 43.

Also in attendance were General President Joseph A. Mullaney and Secretary-Treasurer C. W. Sickles.

Delegates A. Gaspic, L. Gaspic and Recor of Local No. 33 reported that work is plentiful in their territory and future prospects are very good with State and Federal work under way and in the making. Several Emergency Asbestos Workers working along with three travelers. Also large Vets hospital in West Haven under way. They reported on meeting with employers on new wage agreement effective July 1, 1951, and on offer of increase by employers. Local requests $2.87½ per hour for Mechanics. Another meeting is being arranged with employers. Lance Gaspic stated he has resigned his office as Business Agent of Local No. 33 and at a recent election held by the Local, his brother Anthony Gaspic was elected Business Agent for the coming term on a full-time basis, and their membership consists of 125 men.

Delegate Carlson of Local No. 31 reported on numerous jobs in his territory plus two power jobs and school work which will take care of his membership for the coming year. Many Emergency Asbestos Workers with cards in other building trade crafts being employed.

Spoke of efforts being made by him on bringing a non-union employer in his territory in line and of impossible requests by said non-union operator who wants to make his own conditions on operating a Union Shop. Welfare Fund in full operation with payments being made by employers after several disagreements in setting up the Fund. Reported on new material being used on a power plant in connection with our canvas work on said plant. President Mullaney gave instructions on application procedure in order that we do not conflict on a Trade dispute with another trade.

Delegate Koziol of Local No. 43 stated work not progressing too rapidly and that several large operations are under way, including large insurance building, addition to Western Massachusetts Electric Plant, large school in Holyoke, plus a housing operation in Worcester. The local also put Charlie Hill as Business Agent in and around the Worcester area and Business Agent Koziol to take care of the Springfield territory. This was due to Worcester taking up too much of Business Agent Koziol's time. Local No. 43 has also joined the Worcester Building Trades Council, which should be very helpful on jobs where assistance is needed. Wage agreement expires on July 20, 1951, and meetings are being arranged for a request for an increase with a possibility of taking up a Welfare Fund. He also reported on a present-day problem of the Local wherein certain of the membership of Local No. 42 are working for an employer in their territory who were furnished by the Business Agent.

Both President Mullaney and Secretary Sickles stated that furnishing men to an out-of-town contractor for work in Local No. 43 territory is routine custom but ruled that members working for said contractor should confine their operations to Local No. 43 territory and not be allowed to be sent into some other Local's territory without taking out a traveling card and not be allowed to free lance.

Delegate Hoff of Local No. 6 reported conditions very good and prospects for the future excellent. He stated new power plant now being manned, an air base in the making, plus an addition to Edison Edgar Station to be ready in the fall, along with a Vets hospital just partially done with a new one in the making at Brockton, Mass. Reported on several meetings with employers on new agreement coming up on July 1, 1951, which is not consummated up to date due to a disagreement over a board condition. About 25 Emergency Asbestos Workers and two travelers working.

A check-up of membership in the armed forces is as follows: Local No. 6, 4 men; Local No. 31, 2 men; Local No. 33, 8 men; Local No. 43, 2 men.

Secretary Sickles then instructed all Business Agents to be sure to have all new wage rates signed by employers and forwarded to him at the General Office in order that he may file them with the Federal authorities so that we may be correctly recorded on predetermined wages on Federal projects and other operations.

President Mullaney gave a summary of work in general and conditions throughout the country concerning our trade and said report showed our trade to be in demand from coast to coast.

He dwelt on what the Building Trades Department at Washington and labor in general are doing to bring about an amendment to the

Published by AsbestosClaims.Law
asbestosclaims.law/library/21488/16

Taft-Hartley Law as it has been proven to be unworkable in the Building Trades.

Delegate Lance Gaspic stated he wished to relinquish the position as President of the Conference. After acceptance of same, Delegate Henry Koziol was nominated and elected President for the coming term.

General discussion followed relative to reporting time at shops, trucking of material by members of Local No. 43 and payment of wages after working hours.

President Mullaney stated that this procedure was entirely out of order and that the International Office will take steps to outlaw such outmoded practices by ordering Local No. 43 employers to operate as per custom of all our shops throughout the country.

With no further business and upon motion the Conference adjourned at 2 p. m. and were the guests of Local No. 43 at luncheon.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN W. HOFF,
Secretary.

No Friend of High Prices Can Be Friend of Labor, Leaders Assert

Following is the text of the United Labor Policy Committee statement issued July 9 on Congress' weakening of the Defense Production Act:

This is a warning and an appeal to the American people from representatives of 15,000,000 American workers.

Congress is letting down our country's defenses.

Congress is now voting to weaken the Defense Production Act. We cannot have an effective defense production program without an effective stabilization program.

We believe that the American people agree that so long as the policies of the Soviet Union and its satellites continue to threaten free people anywhere, America and the other free nations must continue to build their military power. A cease-fire order in Korea does not justify a cease-fire in our defense production or in the campaign against inflation.

In the Senate a combination of Dixiecrats and reactionary Republicans already has forced through a bill that will increase the cost of living a dollar a day for each and every American family. A similar coalition in the House of Representatives is now following suit. There is no justification whatsoever for higher prices now. Yet, lobbyists for the profiteers are exploiting the possibility of truce in Korea to further weaken price controls. Congress is succumbing to pressure from special interest lobbies with the excuse that the American people "just don't care."

Time is running out, but there are a few days left in which any American family can write, phone or wire their congressman asking his vote for an effective stabilization program.

Members of Congress are answerable to the American people, not to any group of big business lobbyists. We ask now that the representatives stand up and be counted and let the people judge in the next election.

The labor organizations represented on this United Labor Policy Committee pledge themselves to conduct a widespread educational campaign on the basis of the votes in the Senate and House on the Defense Production Act. American workers, looking at the record, will know that no friend of high prices can be a friend of labor.
