Some Facts About YOUR COVER PICTURE

We have deviated this month from our usual cover designs in order to bring you "The American Creed." In these disturbing times and with all the turmoil throughout the world, we feel that it would be well for us, once again, to renew our pledge to this wonderful country of ours. This land where we are blessed with freedom, equality, justice and humanity. Nowhere else in the world are people free to live their individual lives as they see fit.

With the Communist threat all around us endangering our democratic way of life we suggest you read "The American Creed" on the cover. In so doing it will remind us of our duties as American citizens to love our country, support its Constitution, obey its laws, respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies.

In many far-off places of the world as well as all over our United States there lie those who made the supreme sacrifice and gave their lives for the cause of freedom. Those who died for freedom look to us for its preservation. Let us resolve to live up to "The American Creed" so the future will see the freedom they loved and died for lighting not only America but the rest of the world as well.

George Meany, AFL President

Address of President George Meany to the Conference of International Representatives of the A. F. of L., at Chicago, Illinois May 14, 1954, on the . . .

Proposed AFL Internal Disputes Plan

This Conference—and I want to make it clear that this is a conference, it is not a special convention of the American Federation of Labor—it is a conference of International Representatives for the purpose of getting ideas from the various internationals on this very vexing question of internal quarrels within the American Federation of Labor between the various affiliates. This Conference is held at the direction of the last Convention of the American Federation of Labor which, by unanimous action, directed the Executive Council to formulate a plan for the prevention or solution of the various types of jurisdictional disputes that occur from time to time, and to bring that plan back to the next convention for action by the convention.

However, the Council was also directed to call a conference and present this plan for discussion to the various Internationals, and the Council was empowered, if it saw fit, to put the plan into effect for those who were willing to participate in it during the interim period between the conference and the convention itself.

I would like to point out that the question of putting the plan into effect between now and the convention is not the important matter that is before us. The important matter before us today is for us to ascertain if we can formulate a plan to which the International Unions will agree that will give us machinery for settling these disputes. Of course, any plan will have to be approved by the convention to become an official action of the American Federation of Labor, and so in the final analysis the question of whether it goes into effect on a temporary or interim basis for a few months or whether it goes into effect finally at the convention itself is of no great moment. The important thing is to see if we can have a meeting of minds on a workable and practical plan.

This plan, as now presented to you, is not on a take it or leave it basis. Please consider it as a working paper, an unfinished document. The Executive Council has spent a lot of time with it. There has been a lot of discussion and there are perhaps things in it that could be improved. So it is not a finished document and is not to be considered on a take it or leave it basis. It is a working paper here for discussion.

Before going into what I feel is the necessity for a plan of this type let me make this very clear: This is not a bid for power on the part of the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor. It gives the Executive Council no power other than powers it originally has in the American Federation of Labor structure. In the final analysis the American Federation of Labor is a federation, and any power that comes to the Federation, to the central organization, must come from the participating organizations. The American Federation of Labor has no powers and can have no powers unless those powers are voted to it by its constituted affiliates, which are, of course, in the main the International Unions. This is not a bid for power and this does not emanate from the Executive Council.

This matter came to the convention in the form of a resolution and was considered by the Resolutions Committee and came from that committee, with the recommendation which was unanimously adopted, and that recommendation directed the Executive Council to formulate a plan and directed the Executive Council to call this conference.

The Need for a Plan to Settle Jurisdictional Problems

What this really adds up to is a new and different approach to the jurisdiction question. We have been plagued, as many of you know, perhaps better than I do, for many, many years, with these problems of jurisdiction, and we have had to wrestle with them in conventions of the American Federation of Labor and in conventions of the various departments. But during those years we were wrestling with and debating over the effects of these jurisdictional questions. Jurisdictional questions came to us when they were disputes, sometimes after months of very bitter disputes between various A. F. of L. Unions. Then they came to the American Federation of Labor by way of a complaint to the Executive Council, and from the Executive Council, of course, to the convention. So, in essence what we were doing, we were dealing with the effects of the jurisdictional disputes after they had taken place.

This approach is something new, and to my knowledge it is really the first time that we have tried to get to the cause of these disputes and have tried to evolve a plan that will eliminate the disputes at the very outset through a system of arbitration.

AFL-CIO BURY THE HATCHET

The AFL and CIO buried the hatchet at an historic dinner attended by more than 300 union leaders in celebration of the signing of the No-Raiding Agreement between the two organizations.

"If only the nations of the world would approach their problems in the same constructive fashion as these two labor organizations, we would have hope for world peace," said David Cole, the impartial umpire under the agreement, who served as toastmaster. "Nothing could be better for the welfare of our Nation."

Unfeigned Enthusiasm

The main addresses of the occasion were delivered by AFL President George Meany and CIO President Walter P. Reuther—but to onlookers the big story was the friendliness and comradeship displayed by union officials on both sides in contrast to their former enmity.

"Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," the band played and the audience in the Mayflower Hotel ballroom in the Nation's capital took up the refrain with unfeigned enthusiasm.

Meany earlier told a nation-wide radio audience that three additional AFL unions have signed the pact since it was ratified on June 9—the International Glove Workers Union, the United Garment Workers and the International Brotherhood of Firemen and Oilers. That makes a total of 68 AFL signatories. A total of 29 CIO unions thus far have agreed to participate.

The main theme of the talks by Meany and Reuther was that the no-raiding agreement must be considered as a "first step" toward achieving labor unity and a merger of the two groups into a single, united American labor movement.

"We can now begin to consider putting together the labor movement," said Reuther. Raiding is a senseless waste of our resources. It brings about divisions in our ranks that weaken us. We are now becoming more mature.

"A united labor movement will reflect itself at the bargaining table. It will enable us to achieve greater progress on the economic, social and political fronts. It will strengthen us in the fight to preserve peace and freedom in the world. A free and united labor movement could be the greatest force, the most effective

AFL INTERNAL DISPUTES PLAN

The question naturally arises, well, why do we need this plan? There are some who feel we don't need any plan at all, that we can go on in the way we are going and anyone who has a grievance can come to the American Federation of Labor through the regular machinery and present his grievance. The question is, as I said, do we need such a plan?

This whole question of jurisdictional disputes and raiding goes outside of the American Federation of Labor itself, although the question we are dealing with here this morning is the intra-A. F. of L. disputes—disputes within the American Federation of Labor itself. It is a question that also plagues us in our relations with the other trade unions of the country. You know that the last convention approved of a CIO-A. F. of L. no-raiding agreement. I would like to say just a few words on that because I feel that is of interest. Incidentally, there has been some progress, quite a bit of progress made on that score, and the CIO has now agreed to put that plan into effect by affixing the signatures of those Unions which have authorized the national officers of the CIO to do so, and the A. F. of L. likewise to affix the signatures of our people who have authorized us to do so. That plan will go into effect on June 9. Of course, it will go into effect only for those organizations who have voluntarily become participants to it.

In order to point up the necessity to do something about this I want to give you a few figures on the question of A. F. of L.-CIO raiding.

A. F. of L.-CIO Raiding

During the years 1951, '52 and '53 the American Federation of Labor affiliates filed seven hundred and ninety representation petitions where the CIO was the recognized bargaining agent. During that same period of three years CIO affiliates filed 936 petitions with the NLRB where the A. F. of L. was the recognized bargaining agent. The number of employes involved in the A. F. of L. petitions amounted to 213,144. The number involved in the CIO petitions against the A. F. of L. amounted to 357,783. Of the 791 petitions filed by the A. F. of L. against the CIO, 251 were successful, which was 31 per cent of those petitions. Of the 936 petitions filed by the CIO, 290 were successful, or 30.9 per cent of the total. This means that in both cases two out of three petitions, or two out of three raiding attempts were unsuccessful.

In the A. F. of L. against CIO petitions in those years 44,000 members switched from the CIO to the A. F. of L. In the 936 petitions filed by the CIO in those years, 40,755 switched from the A. F. of L. to the CIO. So thus we find that a very small percentage of those involved actually changed from one organization to the other.

This 4,124 represents the net change, meaning that the A. F. of L. as such, taking it by and large, gained 4,124 members. It actually won 44,000, but on the other hand it lost 40,000, so the difference in round numbers was 4,000, which represented seven-tenths of one per cent of the people involved in the petitions.

However, during that period 4,446 individuals that were concerned with these inter-union raidings voted no union and withdrew all union affiliation, so actually the switch was 4,124 which represented A. F. of L. gains, but the loss to both unions, the people who went non-union due to these representation cases, was 4,446. So more people went non-union than actually those represented by the net gain of affiliation.

Now, let's get to the cost of this business. I am still now talking about A. F. of L.-CIO. I have some idea of what it costs to defend against raids. We in the National Office of the A. F. of L. have to defend our Federal Unions when they are raided, and I have also made inquiry of a number of the International Union Presidents over the last few months and I get figures based on their experience that run from 20, 30 to 40 dollars a member. However, taking a minimum figure—and everybody tells me this is a minimum figure—of $10 per individual involved—and I can say that in one particular case where we fought the CIO Steelworkers with a Federal labor union our figure ran to almost $17, and we tried to keep it down as much as we could. But let's take a figure of $10. At a $10 figure, which is surely a minimum figure, these representation cases which brought about a switch of seven-tenths of one per cent of the people involved cost the American Federation of Labor and the CIO affiliates $11,418,000. Now, that is the monetary cost, and on that basis the number of members that were changed—4,124, were changed at an expenditure of $2,768 per member.

A. F. of L.-A. F. of L. Raiding

Now let's get into this problem of A. F. of L. versus A. F. of L. raiding. During a three-year period, '51, '52 and '53, 1,025 petitions were filed by A. F. of L. Unions against A. F. of L. Unions, which means that there were close to 50 per cent more petitions filed by A. F. of L. Unions against A. F. of L. Unions than there were filed by A. F. of L. Unions against the CIO. These 1,025 petitions over this three-year period affected 84,275 persons. The petitions were successful in 322 cases, which means that seven out of every ten petitions failed.

Some 17,558 of these members switched their affiliation out of the 84,000—switched their affiliation as a result of these elections. However, insofar as the A. F. of L. is concerned, this 17,557 members switch merely meant that there was no addition to the membership of the A. F. of L.—it merely meant that they went from one union to another. On the basis of a $10 cost, this cost the A. F. of L. affiliates $1,685,500. And I say again that this estimated rate is low.

During this period of time the A. F. of L. versus A. F. of L. raiding cases involving 84,000 members resulted in 2,261 individuals voting and going non-union.

Now, I have a chart here. I don't like to bore you with figures, but I think these things are important. I am not going to try to throw criticism at any one particular union; if what I say is considered critical, please accept it as criticism of the whole picture, of a system which to me makes no sense. But I am going to show just what this adds up to. I am going to just take a few cases of a few unions. I am not going to name the unions. But I am going to try to give you some of the results of intra-A. F. of L. raiding.

We will take Union A. Union A was involved as the aggressor—remember, you can be involved both as the aggressor and the defendant, and it is a very significant thing that the four unions that top the list as the aggressors in this A. F. of L. versus A. F. of L field are the same four unions that top the list as defendants against aggression in this A. F. of L. versus A. F. of L. field. So it is the old story, going back to the Bible, of like begetting like, and in this case it seems that the raiders are the ones who get raided.

Now, let's take Union A. They were involved in a large number of cases where they were the aggressor—over 300 cases involving 20.000 people. They won 100 of those cases. and the people they won amounted to 5,228. They were the defendants in over 100 cases involving 9,700 people. They lost 47 of those cases, and they lost 3,307 members. So having lost 3,307, and having won in their raids against other A. F. of L. Unions 5,228, they had a net gain of 1,921 members. That was their net gain in this A. F. of L. versus A. F. of L. raids.

On the basis of the $10 figure again, in order to gain that 1,900 members they spent $305,000.

Let's take another union; let's call it Union B. Union B raided 153 times. They were raided 86 times. They were successful in their raids in 40 cases and they lost in 26 cases where they were raided. They gained 2,600 people out of 14,000, and they lost 1,100 out of 4,600. So they had a total net increase in their membership as a result of the raids and defending themselves against raids of 1,551 members. According to the $10 computation that cost them $193,000. So each member that they gained in the raiding cost them $124.

Now, let's take Union C. Union C raided over 100 times and were in turn raided 48 times. They gained 662 members in their 108 raids. They lost 620 members in the 48 times they were raided, so they had a net gain of 42 members in this three-year period as a result of this raiding. They lost 620 and they won 662 in a total of 156 cases involved, involving a total membership of about 5,400 people. So, using the $10 figure again, it cost them $54,000, if the $10 figure is authentic. Of course, if it is higher it would cost them more. And on the basis of this expenditure of $54,000 they gained 42 members at a cost of $1,309 per member.

Take Union D. Union D raided other A. F. of L. affiliates 90 times involving 8,700 people. They lost 32 of those cases. They in turn were raided 42 times involving 7,500 people, and they lost 12 of those cases. They lost a total of 1,139 members in cases where they were raided. They won 2,302 in the cases where they were the raider, so the net result was that there was 1,163 people gained, and the cost on this estimate would be about $163,000, or a cost of $140 per person.

Now, this story is repeated all down the line—not, however, in all A. F. of L. affiliates, I will have you know. There are some affiliates that are never involved in raids. In fact, our figures show in these NLRB records that out of 111 National and International Unions 46 were involved in these raids, which means that less than one-half of our organizations were involved in these raids.

Why Are There Jurisdictional Raids?

Now, the question naturally occurs what is the sense of this? What is the purpose of it? Nobody gains by it, and that goes for A. F. of L., CIO or anybody else. There is nobody who can challenge the fact that this does cost money. My $10 figure may be high. I don't think so. Everyone I have talked to has told me it costs much more than that. So here are millions of dollars being spent and for what purpose? To gain a few members?

I have studied these cases. I have files and reports from all over the country, and let me say these are not all the cases by any means. These are just the cases where there was a filing with the NLRB. I would say there were far more raids and jurisdictional disputes that involve a greater expenditure than those that appear in these records—cases that never reach the NLRB stage. I want to say to you, to those that say that we have a system, that we don't need anything new, that not one of these 1,025 cases came to the A. F. of L. If there is machinery in the A. F. of L. to peacefully adjudicate these disputes then it is not being used. Not one of these cases came to the A. F. of L.

Now, what is the purpose? Is there something in the trade union philosophy that calls for this sort of thing? If there is, I can't find it, and I never heard of it. I have studied these cases. I get all sorts of reports on them, and I don't find anything in them that involves improving the conditions of the workers in these plants. I don't find anything in them that involves any embarrassment for the employer who stands to gain by this division.

It is a pretty sordid picture. I see the leaflets that are passed out—one union attacking the other. I know for a positive fact that in a good many cases the employer is playing with one union against the other. I know in the case of one Federal union raided by the CIO the employer was definitely on our side when he thought the CIO was going to win, then when we did win he definitely got into bed with the CIO to keep our Union weak, and we lost the union two years later.

I know of cases where these raids are made in conjunction with the employer where the employer representative right now at this minute, an employer representative in company with representatives of one of our International Unions are busy raiding Federal Unions of the American Federation of Labor—where the Personnel Director, if you please, of an employer association is going from meeting to meeting along with the union representative.

Now, what is the idea? Is there nobody left to organize that are unorganized? Gompers back in the early days closed practically every speech that he made with three words—"organize, organize, organize."

Well, have we nobody left to organize that we can afford the luxury of trying to disorganize and transfer the affiliation of workers from one union to the other? Or are we in such a good position that we can afford the luxury to play this game, that we have nothing else to do? Are we in a good position legislatively? Are we in a good position as regards our standing with the large employing groups of the country? Well, the answer is obviously no. The enemies of labor—and they are legion and have been legion for many years—they are just as powerful, if not more powerful today than they ever were. We don't measure our legislative achievements now by the good laws that we passed for the benefit of labor. Oh, no. We measure our legislative achievements by the amount of harm that is done to us. When the legislative sessions are over in the various states of the union we find the state federation people making a measurement of some sort and saying, "Well, we didn't get hurt too bad."

Have we no other problems that call for the type of unity that created this movement?

Gentlemen, I have seen circulars printed by one union asking workers to switch their alliance from the union they are in on the ground that the union they are in is a weak union, and no other ground. "Come to a strong union; you are in a weak union."

Well, that to me doesn't square with the philosophy of the A. F. of L. I am not by any means a veteran who can go way, way back, but I can go back enough years where I can remember that some of our strong unions were themselves weak unions. The history of the A. F. of L. will show that the strong unions did help the weak unions, and when the fight for improvements on basic labor issues were conducted they concentrated, as they did in the case of the International Typographical Union on the eight-hour day and let the strong unions lead the fight for basic improvements that were important to all. The records are replete with instances of A. F. of L. contributions to the weak unions. The records of the American Federation of Labor in 1927 and 1928 show contributions in money of more than two million dollars to one of our weak unions. I was a member of a local union committee collecting clothing and shoes and blankets for the members of that weak union. But today that union, the United Mine Workers, boast of its material wealth and resources. This same union that our records show was a weak union. And still today we have campaign material going out asking members to change their affiliation because the union they are in is weak.

Well, gentlemen, this may be a game and there may be those who feel we can well afford to play it. I personally don't think so. I don't think it gains us anything in public opinion. I don't think it gains us anything in improving the conditions of the workers that we represent. I don't think it gains us anything in our fight for relief from the anti-labor legislation that is on the statute books of the states and of the nation.

Facing Up to the Problem

I think we have to got to face up to this problem. We have got to realize that trade unions are in being for a certain, specific purpose, and that is to build up the conditions of life and of work of the people we represent and thereby build up the wealth of the country, improve the conditions in the country and contribute to the wealth and standing of the nation. That is our job. We should turn our face to that job and do it.

Now, this plan that you have before you is not too complicated, and it merely attempts to substitute an orderly procedure for the disorderly spectacle that we now see in this field. It merely attempts to commit unions in advance to a peaceful settlement of these disputes. It is completely voluntary. There is no move or no inclination that I know of to compel anyone to agree to a plan of this sort; but I say to you that we owe it to our membership, we owe it to those who have gone before us in this movement to at least make an effort to solve this problem. We are not as strong as our treasuries might make us believe. Don't depend upon your treasury. Yes, it is handy but remember if the trade union movement is going to be stamped as a nation-wide financial structure of great magnitude, then the attitude of the people of America is going to be the same as it has been to the nation-wide financial giants of the past. If our money is the only weapon we have, and we think we have a lot of it, well then take a look at the money the other fellow has, the money the employers have. If there is to be warfare in which we can use our money and they can use theirs, and money is going to be the decisive factor, well, we can't win. We need public opinion. Above all we need the backing of our membership.

Did it ever occur to you what might be going on in the minds of an individual worker who every two years is bombarded with pamphlets and letters and visits from organizers asking him to change his affiliation from one organization to the other?

What do you think must be his concept of the purpose of the trade union movement? So I appeal to you here to give this matter your deep and earnest consideration. I said before that this proposal did not emanate from the Executive Council, but the Executive Council has indicated that something should be done. I feel that something should be done, and it must be done by the unions that go to make up the American Federation of Labor. It cannot be done from the top. It cannot be imposed upon the membership of the American Federation of Labor. It must be done by gentlemen such as we have in the room here this morning, who can see the wisdom of some plan that will provide for a peaceful adjudication of these disputes between unions which contribute nothing, in my opinion, to the advancement of the organized labor movement. I am sorry I took up your time, but I felt that I had to say these few words to you and to give you this record, which only shows the damage that is done to us financially, it only shows what it costs in money. That record does not show what it cost in adverse public opinion and it does not show what it cost in our standing with our membership or in our failure, perhaps, to make further advances against the legislation which oppresses us today.

With these few remarks I will now call this conference to order with the understanding that it is a conference, that we want you to discuss this plan openly and freely and make any suggestions that you care to make, ask any questions that you care to ask, which we will try to answer if possible, and with the idea in mind of getting something that the Executive Council can finally bring out that will solve or at least partially solve this problem.

Unfair Tactics Hit by Gray

Spartanburg, S. C.—Violations of the Davis-Bacon Act and other prevailing wage laws generally are confined to a certain class of contractor who insists he must do business contrary to the law, Cornelius Gray of the solicitor's office of the Labor Department's wage determination division told the annual convention of the South Carolina State Federation of Labor.

"It is the type of contractor who creates an unfair competitive advantage over fair contractors," Gray said. "This same contractor by his actions attempts to tear down the standards which you and the fair contractors have built up over a period of many years."

The Labor official pointed out that prevailing wage laws were enacted primarily to insure that the vast amount of money going into Federal construction was not used to tear down local standards which organized labor and fair-labor contractors have established.

The Davis-Bacon Act covers all construction where the Federal Government enters into a direct construction contract of $2.000 or more with a contractor.

Gray pointed to the fact that the construction industry will account for one-tenth of the Nation's total production this year as evidence of the "tremendous impact" prevailing wage laws in the industry have upon the entire national economy.

Washington 1, D. C.

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:

On Saturday, June 19, 1954, at a joint meeting where the officers of Montreal Local No. 58 and Toronto Local No. 95 met, a petition was submitted to Secretary-Treasurer C. W. Sickles to be taken up with the General Executive Board for approval, that a Canadian Conference of Asbestos Workers be set up.

Secretary-Treasurer C. W. Sickles made a special trip to act as chairman and direct us in setting the basis for an Eastern Canadian Conference.

There was nothing on the agenda but to set up the way of working such a conference as this matter is new to the present officers of the Canadian locals.

Brother M. H. Nicols, Business Agent of the Toronto Local No. 95, was elected to be chairman and yours truly the secretary-treasurer.

Meetings will be held quarterly, starting in Montreal the third Saturday of August and then intermediate points between Montreal and Toronto, possibly Ottawa in November, Kingston in February and Toronto in May. This will be defined more clearly at our first meeting, August 21, at Queen's Hotel, Montreal.

It was agreed that the president, business agent and secretary of each affiliated local be delegated to attend all conference meetings.

Thanking Secretary-Treasurer Sickles for his assistance past, present and future, I am

Fraternally yours,
MAURICE BLEAU,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Editor's Footnote: (This petition was referred to the General Executive Board and in accordance with unanimous vote, the General Office has issued a charter to the Eastern Canadian Conference of Asbestos Workers.)

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER:

On Saturday evening, June 5, 1954, Local No. 12 held its first Dinner-Dance at the Hotel New Yorker.

The entertainment committee performed a magnificent job in making this affair a most successful and enjoyable evening for all.

We are mailing under separate cover a picture taken at our Dinner-Dance and we respectfully request that it be placed in the next issue of THE ASBESTOS WORKER.

We are exceedingly sorry that International President Joseph A. Mullaney and International Secretary-Treasurer C. W. Sickles and his wife were unable to be present at this affair as they were greatly missed.

The attendance of members from Local No. 12 and their friends, along with representatives of Locals Nos. 32 and 91, who by their presence helped this Dinner-Dance to be the success it was, has been greatly appreciated by the entertainment committee.

No Raiding Pact Signed

agency, in halting the spread of Communism."

Emphasize Advantages

Meany emphasized the practical advantages to labor of ending raiding and bringing about labor unity.

"Raiding does not pay," he said. "It does not pay in dollars and cents. It does not pay in terms of organization. It does not pay in carrying out the basic objective of trade-unionism, which is to gain better conditions for the workers we represent.

The raider soon learns that the one who raids the most is the one who is raided the most. The records prove that is so.

"Raiding diverts us from our main job of organizing the unorganized. Of the 48 million workers who could be organized, only 16 million have been enrolled in union ranks. Only one worker out of three is organized. I know of no union that can say 'We have fully organized our trade so let's go out and do some raiding to keep our organizers busy.' We know it is one of the traditions of the trade union movement that every unorganized worker constitutes a menace to the standards and conditions of the organized workers.

"The facts of life speak for themselves. It is good business to end raiding and bring about unity.

"This no-raiding agreement is a step in the right direction. It is good for the labor movement.

"Our trade union movement is directly concerned with such things as wages and hours. But it goes far beyond that. The spirit of our movement has to do with the ideal of human brotherhood."

Assails Monopoly Idea

Meany then assailed newspaper editorials warning that a united labor movement might lead to a labor monopoly. He emphasized that unions have always opposed monopoly and dictatorship in any form and that the AFL had been the first organization in the Nation to expose and denounce all forms of totalitarianism—Nazi, Fascist and Communist. He said a free labor movement can exist only under a free government. Labor in America has no desire to run the country or to dominate any political party, he declared.

At the same time, Meany pointed out that labor's influence over Government policies has been weakened by division. He asserted that America's world prestige and foreign policy has deteriorated shockingly in the last six months and that the Administration has followed weak economic policies that have endangered the Nation's prosperity.

"We have a job to do to mold public opinion so that we can get back on the right path and not lose the achievements of the past 75 years, Meany told the assembled audience of AFL and CIO leaders. "The standard of living that has been built up in this country was not a gift. It had to be fought for. It was due to the efforts of the trade union movement—and this needs to be recognized."

Hornburger, William Marra and Raymond Haigh, Local No. 85; as also Carlton R. Sickles, administrator of several Health and Welfare Programs throughout the country.

A communication from the General Office was read and upon motion was received and contents complied with. Motion carried.

Bills as presented were ordered paid.

Delegate Rust of Local No. 2 reported present conditions as being very good with entire membership at work and 20 referrals also being used. Several of the jobs in the territory are presently tied up due to agreement negotiations on the part of other building trades crafts, however with a large power house due around the first of the year and also the usual percentage of normal work coming along conditions look favorable for the next two years. He also advised that their service men are beginning to return.

Delegate Smith, also of Local No. 2 reported that a tentative date of December 11 has been set for the Fiftieth Anniversary Dinner-Dance of Local No. 2, and that full details will be reported at our next meeting.

Delegate Moore of Local No. 11 reported that since the last meeting conditions have fallen off considerably. Referrals are now being used solely in the shipyards and with the closing of the Sparrows Point Yard, scheduled in the fall due to a curtailment of new orders, an unemployment condition can be expected. Listed among current work is a power house, schools and several department stores. A new Social Security building is soon to be erected. Concluding his report he stated that agreement negotiations will soon be started.

Delegate Jacob of Local No. 14 reported that in the near future the oil industry expansion program will near completion but enough work will be available for the membership. Air conditioning, a power house at Crumbie, Pa., schools, the new Penn Center, a hotel and the usual run of small work comprises the work now in progress.

He also reported that negotiations are now going on for a new agreement and that a package deal has been offered to include a wage increase, and a zone system in determining expenses. The above submitted by the employers which includes 12½c increase to be accepted as wages or part of wages and part additional Health and Welfare contribution, as also a zone expense system. This package deal to be voted on by Local No. 14 membership in special meeting June 10. (Editor's note—This package deal was accepted at the June 10 special meeting and sub-divided in 10c per hour wage increase and 2½c additional Health and Welfare contribution, making a total of 10c per hour Health and Welfare contribution.)

Delegate Hoyle of Local No. 24 reported current conditions slow with half of the membership now employed at the Potomac Electric Power plant job, however, with several jobs in the ready to break stage conditions for the future look good. He also reported that negotiations for a new agreement have been completed effective July 1, 1954 and hourly wage of $3.12½ and on July 1, 1955 and hourly wage of $3.25 with a continued welfare rate of 10c per hour.

Delegate Springle of Local No. 32 reported that at the present time there is a peak in demands for manpower but with a current idleness in the mechanical trades being experienced a sharp drop is to be expected by the fall of the year.

A jurisdictional dispute with the laborers has been experienced on several jobs but this has been overcome and our craft is proceeding with the work involved. He concluded his report by advising that agreement negotiations are now in progress. The current agreement expires on July 31, 1954.

Delegate Wardell of Local No. 42 reported that conditions have picked up since our last meeting, all of the local membership are working, together with several Travelers and 5 referrals being used. Three power house jobs and the Air Base job at Dover comprise the largest operations now going on. An option has been taken for an oil job in Wilmington. Concluding his report he invited any of our idle International membership in for employment.

Delegate Gotwalt of Local No. 65 reported that at the present entire membership is working, together with 24 referrals, but with the surrounding mechanical trades now being slow a let-down is expected in the near future. The several large jobs now going on are nearing completion, but enough work will be on hand for our local membership. He concluded his report by advising that agreement negotiations will soon be started.

Delegate Grello of Local No. 71 reported entire membership working with one Traveler and 5 referrals.

Future prospects look good with all types of work coming along. Agreement negotiations are soon to begin and a wage increase is to be sought. He concluded his report by advising that the local membership has been increased with 13 Mechanics and 4 Improvers having been admitted to the local at the last meeting.

Delegate Hornburger of Local No. 85 reported that only six of his membership now working in town, five or six are available for employment. While present work is slow the future will look good with the expansion program at the State Colony at Woodbine, N. J., nearing readiness for our craft.

Delegate Parker of Local No. 88 reported that the entire membership is working with 5 Travelers and 6 referrals being used at present. Nothing urgent is going on at the present time, but with 3 hospitals and another large job locally, the prospects for the balance of the year look very favorable. He concluded his report by advising that their Welfare Program becomes effective on July 1.

Delegate Kopp of Local No. 89 reported entire membership at work augmented by 2 Travelers and several referrals. The Naval Air Turbine Test Station job is now the largest operation going on, with the balance comprised of the usual small type variety. Listed among future jobs is the power house expansion at Burlington, N. J., and cantonement expansion at Fort Dix, N. J., and McGuire Air Force Base. He concluded his report by advising that a new agreement will soon be negotiated.

A general discussion was then held, the highlight of which was the formation of a reciprocal Welfare Program by which the membership will have continuous coverage regardless of where they are employed.

During the delegates' reports, Secretary Sickles gave advice whenever necessary and also reported on our national craft outlook. He also advised those locals who are contemplating negotiations for a new agreement. Included in his report was an enlightening discourse on the L.L.P.E. and its continued efforts to obtain favorable legislation for organized labor, stressing the necessity for the rank and file to get behind the L.L.P.E. and support the annual appeal for a one dollar donation from each member.

Report of men in service: Local No. 2, five; Local No. 11, seven; Local No. 14, ten; Local No. 24, four; Local No. 32, eight; Local No. 65, two; Local No. 71, one; Local No. 88, one; Local No. 89, two.

With all business transacted, adjournment was voted till Saturday, August 28, 1954, at Plasterers Hall, 1324 Melon Street, Philadelphia, Pa., at 12 noon.

Respectfully submitted,
STEPHEN J. KOPP,
Secretary.

Delegate King of Local No. 77 reported work fair with conditions for the future expected to remain about the same.

Delegate Howell of Local No. 78 reports conditions have been very slow, but the near future will find all of the membership in employment which conditions are expected to continue for a considerable time.

Conference Minutes

comprising mostly Travelers deposited with the local union.

Delegate Hendricks of Local No. 96 reported conditions good, future prospects very good.

Delegate Adams of Local No. 107 reported conditions slow, but pickup and additional employment expected in the near future.

Meeting recessed at 12:30 p. m. for luncheon tendered the delegates by Local No. 48.

Meeting reconvened at 1:30 and general discussion covering all details of the various local unions in connection with their efforts and activities to date and the results of same so far as negotiations in connection with the new Joint Trade Agreements to become effective July 1, 1954. These discussions found the majority of the locals pretty much in harmony as to adjustments in wage rates, etc., desirous for the inclusion in the new agreements together with a unanimous desire on the part of the locals to establish a Health and Welfare fund, which funds are fast becoming a policy covering a great majority of not only our local unions but the building trades locals throughout the country in general.

Delegate Howell of Local No. 78 was the only local in a position to report conclusion of negotiations which resulted in wage increase of 15c per hour and which local has already now for well over a year enjoyed the benefits of a 7½c per hour Health and Welfare fund as do several other of our southeast states locals affiliated with this conference.

It was further by motion voted that all affiliated locals would keep both the conference locals and the General Office advised as to their progress in connection with their agreement negotiations and final settlements.

There being no further business before the conference the meeting was adjourned at 3 p. m.

Respectfully submitted,
H. M. HOFFMAN,
Secretary.

in his hand

Wrap the big hand around the little hand . . . for now begins a little heart's journey into prayer . . . the guide is Dad, the goal is a security not even he can provide.

But the pattern is security, and it is Dad's privilege to supply his part of it for the little hearts in his care.

In this binding, enclosing love life finds its finest answer.

The security of our homes is our worthiest goal. And providing it is a privilege unique in a country like ours, where each of us is free to choose his way.

And, think: The security that begins in your home, joined to that of other homes, builds the strength of America.

Saving for security is easy! Read every word—now!

If you've tried to save and failed, chances are it was because you didn't have a plan. Well, here's a savings system that really works—the Payroll Savings Plan for investing in U.S. Savings Bonds. This is all you do. Go to your company's pay office, choose the amount you want to save—a couple of dollars a payday, or as much as you wish. That money will be set aside for you before you even draw your pay. And automatically invested in Series "E" U.S. Savings Bonds which are turned over to you.

If you can save only $3.75 a week on the Plan, in 9 years and 8 months you will have $2,137.30.

United States Series "E" Savings Bonds earn interest at an average of 3% per year, compounded semiannually, when held to maturity! And they can go on earning interest for as long as 19 years and 8 months if you wish, giving you a return of 80% on your original investment!

Eight million working men and women are building their security with the Payroll Savings Plan. For your sake, and your family's, too, how about signing up today? If you are self-employed, ask your banker about the Bond-A-Month Plan.
